Section 9 Upon receipt of such annual report the Secretary of Mines shall make an investigation of the operation and shall charge the area of land actually affected by strip mining during the year for which said report is filed against the bond or deposit filed by the operator at the rate of two hundred dollars ($200) per acre of the area of land affected but in no case shall the bond or deposit retained by the Secretary of Mines be less than two thousand dollars ($2000). Should the area of land actually affected exceed the estimate made by the operator at the time of the application for the permit the operator shall file an additional bond at the rate of two hundred dollars ($200) per acre of the area of land affected over and above his estimate provided that an additional bond need not be filed where the number of acres of land actually affected multiplied by two hundred dollars ($200) does not exceed the sum of two thousand dollars ($2000). If the work contemplated by the permit and bond be not completed but the area of land actually affected by strip mining during the year is less than the estimate the Secretary shall issue a release of the excess of the bond or deposit upon which liability has not been charged as aforesaid provided that in no case shall any bond or deposit be released or reduced to an amount less than two thousand dollars ($2000)

Section 10 This act shall not apply to any stripping operation at which less than two hundred and fifty (250) tons of coal have been mined during any one twelve (12) month period and after this fact has been established and the Secretary of Mines is authorized to direct in the manner established for the payment of other obligations of the Commonwealth the return to the operator of the filing fee received and to cancel and return the bond filed by such operator

Section 11 The application for a permit shall be accompanied by a map showing the location of any public highway dwelling house or stream of water on or adjacent to the area of land affected. The operator shall backfill the operation made by the strip mining operation to a distance of seventy-five (75) feet from the center line of any such public highway and to a distance of two hundred (200) feet from any dwelling house public building school church commercial or institutional building. In any case where the legal right of way of the highway shall be less than one hundred twenty (120) feet in width the operator shall backfill for a distance of fifteen (15) feet beyond the boundary line of such right of way. The backfilling shall be done in such a manner as to insure lateral support of a public highway and to provide a slope having an angle not exceeding forty (40) degrees. The permit issued shall specify the time within which it shall be completed in order to protect the public safety and may require such backfilling to be done in part before the completion of the strip mining operation

The permit shall also specify the distance to which the bottom of the spoil banks made by the stripping mining operation may approach any stream of water having a well-defined channel. Such distances shall be fixed by the department at such number of feet as in the judgment of the department after consultation with the Water and Power Resources Board taking into consideration the character of the overburden is necessary to protect the channel of the stream

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to prohibit the relocation of any public road in the manner provided by law or the change of the course or channel of any stream in the manner provided by law upon permit issued by the Water and Power Resources Board

Section 12 In any case where a strip mining operation after completion shall leave anthracite exposed the operator shall be required on written order of the department to cover the exposed surface of the anthracite to a depth of five (5) feet in order to prevent the spread of fire to the unmined anthracite

Nothing contained in this section shall be construed to require the drainage of a strip mining excavation where the accumulation of water therein will not in the opinion of the department constitute a hazard or where such water may furnish means of recreation or a supply of water for domestic or industrial uses

Section 14 In all cases in which the Secretary of Forests and Waters shall find as a fact that the planting of such areas is reasonable practicable and likely to succeed the peaks and ridges of such spoil banks shall be leveled and rounded off to such an extent as will permit the planting of trees grasses or shrubs. Within one (1) year after the strip mining operation on the premises is terminated the operator shall plant trees shrubs or grasses upon the surface of the spoil banks and the surface of backfills. Any operator however may at his option pay to the Department of Forests and Waters the sum of sixty dollars ($60.00) per acre for each acre of such surface of spoil banks and backfillings and thereby shall be released from any duty to plant as herein provided. The moneys so paid from time to time shall be placed in a special fund in the hands of the Treasury Department of the Commonwealth and shall be used by the Department of Forests and Waters to pay the cost of planting such trees grasses or shrubs and the supervision of such work and all other expenses necessary for or connected with such planting and are hereby appropriated to the Department of Forests and Waters for such purposes. Any moneys remaining unused after such planting may be used for planting any other lands affected by strip mining of anthracite coal. All planting required by this act to be done by the operator shall be done subject to the supervision and approval of the Secretary of Forests and Waters and upon such approval the secretary shall certify such performance to the Department of Mines. If upon inspection the Secretary of Forests and Waters does not approve the planting he shall notify the operator in writing setting forth the objections and after a hearing shall order the planting to be completed in accordance with his final decision.

Section 15 Within six (6) months after the backfilling and other acts required by this act have been completed the operator shall file with the Department of Mines a completion report on a form to be prescribed and furnished by the secretary identifying the operation and stating the area of land affected by open pit mining and such other information as may be required by the Secretary before releasing the bond of the operator.

Section 16 If and when the Secretary of Mines shall find that the operator has completed the backfilling and other acts as required by this act and shall receive the certificate of the Secretary of Forests and Waters that planting has been done or the payment has been made if and as required by Section 14 of this act he shall issue a release of the bond or of the cash and securities deposited. Upon the presentation of such release the State Treasurer shall immediately return to the operator the amount of cash or securities specified in its release.

Section 17 If the operator fails or refuses to comply with the requirements of the act as to any area for which liability has been provided in the bonds the Secretary of Mines shall declare such portion of the bond forfeited and shall certify the same to the Department of Justice which department shall proceed to sue out and collect the amount of liability forfeited thereon and where the operator has deposited cash or securities in lieu of bond the Secretary of Mines shall declare such portion of the deposit forfeited and shall direct the State Treasurer to pay said moneys into a special fund for the use of the Department or to proceed to sell said securities to the extent forfeited and pay the proceeds thereof into the said special fund. Such moneys or securities so forfeited and collected shall be used by the Secretary of Mines to pay the cost of backfilling and other acts required by this act and the cost of planting as required by Section 14 of this act and any balance not used for these purposes shall be returned to the operator.

PRAYER

The Chaplain, Rev. Lester C. Updegrave offered the following prayer:

Our Father, we come this Flag Day in the spirit of solemn dedication as in the name of the Lord our God we set up the starry banner of our nation's life. As it floats in the free breeze of heaven it speaks to us, liberty and freedom and to oppressed millions throughout the world, faith and hope. May no attitude, word, nor deed of ours stain its white or shame its red, betray its blue or dim its stars. Grant that it may always be to all men the emblem of freedom, equality, brotherhood, and justice; that it may bring hope to the downtrodden and emancipation to the shackled. We pray in our Lord's name. Amen.

DON MCNEILL WELCOMED

The SPEAKER. The gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Tittle, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kirley, will please present themselves at the well of the House.

The Chair is very pleased and happy to have a distinguished visitor present at this morning's session, and requests the gentleman from Dauphin, Mr. Tittle, and the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Kirley, to escort him to the rostrum, Mr. Don McNeill.

The Chair is very pleased and happy to present a voice that I am sure all of you have heard, especially those of you who are not accustomed to remaining up too late at night and arising too late in the morning, in his program which is given every morning, called "The Breakfast Club." Members of the House, Don McNeill. We are very pleased to have him here.

Mr. DON MCNEILL. I thank you very much, Mr. Speaker. I really appreciate this opportunity here to say to this grand group in session a few words, and I want to thank the two gentlemen who escorted me up here, although I assure you that I could have made it under my own power.

Over there on my left are the three McNeills, my three income tax exemptions, whom I carry with me. As you gentleman all know, they are the ones who really run my Breakfast Club program.

I appreciate the fact that some of you may have heard the program, as well as some of the folks back home whom you represent here, and I would like to say this, that in all the polls that have ever been taken of our programs, in all the returns of those polls, it has always amazed me that the State of Pennsylvania has always led. We have always gotten more votes in Pennsylvania than any other state, including New York and any of the other states. So I feel very much at home in Pennsylvania.

Mr. Speaker, if brevity is the soul of wit, that is what this speech is, because I am through. Thank you very much.

BILL ON SECOND READING

Agreeably to order,

The House proceeded to the second reading and consideration of Senate Bill No. 506, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act approved the second day of May one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 1278) entitled "An act relating to counties of the second third fourth fifth sixth seventh and eighth classes and revising amending and consolidating the laws relating thereto" providing for fixing the number and compensation of all appointed officers deputies assistants clerks and other persons whose compensation is paid out of the county treasury whether employed by the county the courts or by any judge thereof creating a salary board in each county defining its powers and duties providing for appeals and repealing inconsistent acts

The first section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I understood that amendments were to be offered to Senate Bill No. 506, which would take out the second and third class counties. I do not want to preclude anybody from offering those amendments, but in view of the situation, I would like to offer an amendment which will merely take out second class counties and leave the third class counties in the bill.

Mr. Speaker, I offer amendments to Senate Bill No. 506.

On the question recurring,

Will the House agree to the section?

It was agreed to.

The second and third sections were separately read and agreed to.

The fourth section was read.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the section?

Mr. MADDEN offered the following amendments:

Amend sec. 4, page 4, lines 11 to 20, by striking out all of said lines.

Amend sec. 4 (Sec. 155), page 5, lines 1 and 2, by striking out both of said lines.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the amendments?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, this bill was reported from Committee last night, and an amendment is being offered here on second reading by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Madden, which would take second and third class counties out of the provisions of the bill. I understand that it is agreeable to the Members from the second class counties to take them out of the bill, but insofar as I am concerned, it is not agreeable to take third class counties out of the bill. If you take third class counties out of the bill, that means that all of the employes who now have their salaries fixed by statute, their salaries would be wiped out by this bill, they would be fixed by the salary board as provided under Senate Bill No. 506, and they would not be able to have their salaries altered as was anticipated they would be under 506. Therefore, as it would stand, all of the counties fourth, fifth and sixth and so on down, would be able to take advantage of the provisions of this bill and place all of the employes under the salary board.

I believe this bill is fundamentally right. I believe the salary board should fix the salaries of employes, although I thought it was wrong to have them fixed in the Legislature as far as we have been, but each county can decide that for itself. The men who are charged with the responsibility of raising the taxes should also have the responsibility of fixing the salaries under the conditions that might exist in each county. The difficulty in this thing as it has arisen is caused by the fact that it provides that the salaries of the employes of the courts would be fixed by the salary board. To this the judges of the state have objected, and the judges in my own county have objected. I have told them very plainly that I think the principle involved in this bill is fundamentally sound government, that while I realize that they are responsible for their employes in their courts, that they want employes who are loyal to them, that they want to be certain of the integrity of those employes and have a proper control over them, nevertheless I think that still can be worked out under the salary board in each county, but that there should be no difference between the employes of the courts and the other employes in the county court house.

I am in favor of 506, but I cannot let it pass with an amendment to take my county out, and take the employes of my county and place them in an unfavorable position as compared with other employes of the state. Therefore, I ask the Members to vote this amendment down.

I have amendments and ask that they be read so that this issue might be raised in an orderly way. I have an amendment which will take out second class counties, and if the amendments presented by the gentleman from Westmoreland are defeated in this House, the amendment which I have offered will then be considered to take out second class counties, and if that is agreeable to the delegation from Allegheny, as I understand it is, there will be no question that the second class counties would be taken out.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, in closing may I say that voting to defeat the amendment offered to take out second and third class counties would not be defeating the ultimate purpose of exempting second class counties from the provisions of 506.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, it is with a great deal of reluctance that I make this request. Would it be possible to give us just five minutes to confer on this? We were caught completely unaware. We realize that any legislation which brings back government to its source, back to its base, is fundamentally good government and is home rule, but due to the confusion that exists in the set-up in our country, I am wondering at this moment whether or not we should do this when I am not quite sure of all that it takes in, and I would request the indulgence of the House to give us five or ten minutes to look it over.

The SPEAKER. If there is no objection the Chair will defer action on the amendments to Senate Bill 506 for ten minutes. Will the gentlemen please retire to the conference room rather than discuss it on the floor?

Mr. FLEMING. I thank the Speaker for his indulgence, but we have completed our conference.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, I wonder if the gentleman from Westmoreland, Mr. Madden, has an extra copy of his amendments that I could use for a moment.

Mr. COOK. Mr. Speaker, these bills have been kicked around in Committee for the last three weeks. In our argument in Committee before we reported this bill out, it was agreed to amend it to take out second and third class counties. Last evening as these bills came out of Committee, in order to save a legislative day, it was agreed by the committee to amend them on the floor of the House. Of course I understand and I realize that the Committee is the one that is responsible for the members of the committee on the floor of the House, but I believe that the result of the Committee's action and the result of the Committee's recommendation should be recognized on the floor of the House. We could have amended those bills in Committee and been here another day. I think the proper thing to do is to take the recommendations of the Committee. They will have to be concurred in by the Senate. We don't expect them to look at things as we do. We have another day, Monday and maybe we can get all these things ironed out between now and then. But I think in fairness to the fellows who have been objecting for the last three weeks to Senate Bills 506 and 507, that these bills should be amended according to agreement.

Mr. SORG. I yield to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I think that one of the fundamental tenets which I find in practice in my experience in the hall of this House has been the courtesy and deference to the obligations of others and to the position in which you are often placed in legislation. I don't know anything that is harder for me at the moment than to ask for the defeat of the amendments, because the gentleman from Westmoreland, Dr. Madden, feels that I did not disclose to him my objection, and that he assumed from the conversation he had with me last night, —he may not only have assumed but he may have understood that I had no opposition to the elimination of second and third class counties. My recollection is not as clear as that and varies to some degree. But it seems to me that this is one time, as deeply as I regret it, as much as I would like, if there were any doubt at all, any scintilla of doubt on the part of the gentleman from Westmoreland as to my good faith in this matter, I would much rather withdraw my amendment and ask that these amendments be adopted, but I am not dealing here in a personal matter. As I said to you, Mr. Speaker, a little while ago it is not a question of whether I am trying to be a good fellow or trying to go along and help out. This is a matter that vitally affects the employees of my county.

I am frank to say that it was not until after this bill came out last night that I realized what was going to happen to the employees in my county if 506 was the only opportunity to adjust those salaries in this session of the Legislature, therefore, if the third class counties were left out I was left in the hole. I heard at one time during the evening that second, third and fourth class counties were going to be taken out, but it seems that the intention of the Committee was to take out second and third class counties. Therefore again I want to say to the gentleman from Westmoreland that if there is any thought in his mind that I am breaking faith with him, I apologize because I valued the friendship of the gentleman from Westmoreland over a good many years, and I trust in the same spirit he will understand and realize the unfortunate position that I am placed in, as a Member of this Legislature from a third class county, whose employees will suffer if this amendment prevails.

Mr. MADDEN. Mr. Speaker, in answer to the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner, I am sorry if he feels that I said something this morning that indicated that I did not have much faith in his statement last night, but it did seem to me last night when I talked this situation over with the gentleman from Delaware that he had no real interest in the measure insofar as his county was concerned.

We talked with the other third class county Members, with the exception of Mr. Turner's colleagues, and we found that they were all in sympathy with the amendment to exclude third class counties from this bill. That is the basis upon which we went to the Committee meeting last night and this morning. We thought we were going out there with an agreement on the part of the leadership of the House and on the part of the Members from third class counties and it was perfectly all right that we should do this. The amendments were brought in, we were instructed to bring them in, and as Mr. Cook told you a while ago, we could have inserted these amendments in Committee last night and held up this bill for another legislative day, relying on the statements made then, with the understanding that the amendments would be adopted today. I have committed myself to several Members from third class counties that these bills would not be reported out unless and until the third class counties' were excluded, and I feel like my colleague, the Chairman of the Committee, a while ago in his explanation to you, when he said that we feel that when the agreement has been made, there is more or less a duty of the House to support those members who entered into such an agreement. I ask the membership of the House to support the amendment on the third class counties.

Mr. BLOOM. Mr. Speaker, as a member of the Committee of Conference, without attempting to divulge the confidential relationship that exists among the members of the Committee I must say in answer to what has been said by the gentleman from Westmoreland, that there were objections made, very serious objections by members of the Committee that belong to counties of the third class, who expressed the same thought as expressed by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Turner. We were forced and we did state at that time that we would not go along, and that an amendment of the nature expressed by Mr. Turner would be presented today. So I am advising the House that by no means was there any unanimity of opinion among the members of the Committee. We as representatives of the third class counties recognize our responsibility to the county employees who are third class county employees, particularly the employees of the county of Delaware, they would be very seriously affected by the amendments of the gentleman from Westmoreland, and because of that fact we oppose these amendments and ask the House to act accordingly.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I too do not wish to divulge what occurred in Committee, particularly since I am not a member of the Committee on Counties. Suffice to say that I was called before the Committee as one of the Members of the House from Montgomery County, a third class county. I will not say what transpired other than a statement which I made which I repeat before the Members of this House, and certainly I would wish anyone who heard differently to contradict it, that was as a Member of this House from Montgomery County, a third class county, I intended to vote against these amendments on the floor of this House.

Mr. SORG. Mr. Speaker, I feel that I should make a statement at this time as to my feelings on the matter. I realize full well that this bill was in full control of the Committee on Counties, that they had a perfect right to insert the amendments in the Committee, that the Committee itself saw fit to insert, in which event the bill would have come to us one legislative day later than we find ourselves in at the present time. If the Committee did not insert the amendments so that a legislative day could be saved, with the understanding that amendments would be inserted on second reading of the bill, I feel we should abide by the decision of the Committee.

I also realize full well that had the amendments been inserted they would also have been the subject of consideration on the part of the House generally. I do feel that because of the parliamentary situation that the Committee was confronted with that we should abide by the wishes of the Committee who had original control of the bill and let matters take their course from this point on, for the consideration of the House and pass the bill as the Committee itself desires.

Mr. SPROUL. Mr. Speaker, as a representative too, with my colleagues from the third class counties I do not wish to divulge anything as to the proceedings in the Committee. I further desire to add that while there may have been agreements between Dr. Madden and other members of third class counties, there was no agreement as far as I or my colleague are concerned regarding third class counties. Inasmuch as the War Powers Act automatically reduces at the expiration of 1947 the salaries in certain parts of third class counties, it would mean that those particular employees would suffer a reduction and have no recourse, were second and third class counties excluded from the bill. I shall therefore take my own right and vote against these amendments because there was no agreement between us as to their final introduction.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Sproul.

The SPEAKER. Will the gentleman from Delaware permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. SPROUL. I shall, Mr. Speaker.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, will the gentleman inform me whether if Senate Bill 506 passes the salary board could reduce the salary of county employees to a point lower than that which they have been receiving before the wartime measure made it possible for them to receive a higher salary.

Mr. SPROUL. I presume Mr. Speaker, that it could. Would you agree to that presumption.

Mr. READINGER. Mr. Speaker, I do not know. That is why I am asking for information.

Mr. SPROUL. All right, Mr. Speaker, I will interrogate the gentleman later.

Mr. FLEMING. Mr. Speaker, I rise to urge the adoption of this amendment offered by the gentleman from Westmoreland, Dr. Madden. I certainly feel besides the arguments that have been advanced by myself previously on this bill, that we are confronted now with a measure which will completely change our entire setup in the second class counties of the State. I am also mindful of the fact that had not an agreement been reached by the Committee on Counties,—I am not a member of that Committee, but it is my understanding that the only way the bills were brought out was with an understanding that they were to be amended in this fashion on the floor, and as the Majority Floor Leader has stated, had they been amended in Committee, as was the Committee's wish that second and third class counties be excluded, then the possibility of the passage of the bill would have been precluded, because I think we are all practically certain that the most we could hope for was one more legislative day. Had they come out amended by the Committee they would have been placed on the first reading calendar and on the second reading calendar on Monday, and their final passage would have been impossible. Certainly the wishes of the Committee on Counties in whose hands this legislation reposed, should be absolutely complied with in this instance.

Mr. LAYER. Mr. Speaker, as my colleague from Delaware, Mr. Turner, has stated, if these amendments, excluding second and third class counties, are defeated, he has amendments that he will immediately offer that will put the second class counties just where the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming, wants them. So I rise and ask that this amendment excluding second and third class counties be defeated.

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I have heard the presentation of this argument here this morning and the argument that we are trying to save a legislative day. We from Montgomery county are against this bill as these amendments are prepared. However, despite the fact that the Committee on Counties has had both these bills for its consideration since May 1st of this year, we from Montgomery county will go along with these amendments.

Mr. STONIER. Mr. Speaker, as a Member from one of the counties involved here, I might say that an agreement was made in the Committee on Counties that it was to exclude third class counties. I request all of the Members of the House to vote for Dr. Madden's amendments.

Mr. BROWN. Mr. Speaker, may I say for the record and for the information of the Members on this side of the House that we are in complete accord with the statements of the gentleman from Allegheny, Mr. Fleming.

On the question,

Will the House agree to the bill on third reading?

It was agreed to.

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, Senate Bill 666 is a ripped bill. It rips out an authority, which in conjunction with similar commission in the State of New Jersey has been functioning for a number of years in an endeavor to build a tunnel under the Delaware River at approximately Hog Island in Delaware to Gloucester County, New Jersey.

Back as far as 1931 as I recall it,—or 1933, there was legislation passed in this House that would enable a private corporation to construct a tunnel under the Delaware River at this point. The Reconstruction Finance Corporation would not make a loan to a private corporation, and so subsequently legislation was passed which enabled the County of Delaware to set up an authority which could cooperate with a similar organization in the State of New Jersey for the purpose of building the tunnel. Engineering and architectural work was done, preliminary traffic surveys were made, and they were about ready to proceed when Hitler entered Poland and everything was off,—the war was on.

As soon as the war was over the commission sought to proceed with the project and as the first step advertised for proposals from bond houses as to the purchase of the bonds and the doing of certain necessary factual work in order to promote the project. The commission had funds, as this commission would have that would enable it to proceed. Later on it was necessary that the secure through some financial institution that would be willing to float bond issues the necessary engineering and legal expense during this preliminary period.

The First Boston Corporation entered into a contract with this Commission, and I have in my possession one of the originals of this contract signed by the Gloucester County Channel Commission and the Delaware County Authority, and by the First Boston Corporation. As a result of that contract the firm of Day and Zimmerman was employed to make a traffic survey to determine whether the project was economical and feasible because any money borrowed would have to rest for security upon the tolls to be returned by this particular vehicular traffic. That report was made by Day and Zimmerman, and again the Commission was prepared to proceed when, because of the present extremely high price of construction it was deemed better to wait for a bit to find out whether it would be possible to get a better price.

No member of this Commission, as far as the Delaware County Authority is concerned, has ever received any compensation. On the other hand most of the members of this Commission have expended out of their own pockets a considerable amount of money for the payment of expenses that were incident to the preliminary work. At the time that they advertised for bids there was no money in the treasury to pay the cost of this advertisement and the members went down in their own pockets and paid for it.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, no matter how much merit there is in this bill, it seems to me that it is a highly unfair proposition for the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Frazier, to offer a bill in this session to create a commission which not only would attempt to build tunnels in the Delaware River outside of the ten mile limit from the Delaware River bridge, which by law they would be required to do, and the only place they can build that tunnel is down in Delaware County, but this bill provides a repealer of all the acts under which the present commission was set up, and rips them out of office. There is no consideration given under this bill for the existing commission. There is no consideration for the amount of money expended in engineering and other expenses. There is nothing said except in a general way; they are given the right to build a tunnel any place in Philadelphia or Delaware County or any particular county so long as it is outside the limit of ten miles beyond the Delaware River bridge.

Mr. Speaker, I ask you why does a Philadelphia Senator present a bill to create a commission in the Delaware River to build a tunnel and rip out an existing commission that has done the preliminary work, with a bill that provides for the erection or construction of a tunnel in the only place where the tunnel is feasible, and that is at the place where the present commission is going to build it, in the place where it was planned, because if you take a line ten miles south of the Delaware River bridge you come to Delaware County. Therefore, it is not only a ripper but an infringement, it seems to me, upon the County of Delaware by my friends from the County of Philadelphia. I have a lot of regard for Philadelphia; I have great regard for a great many Members of the House from Philadelphia and I have labored with a great many Members of the House from Philadelphia. I recognize the fact that there are problems in Philadelphia that make them long for extension and expansion, but I can see no possible necessity for this ripper bill, and I see no reason for it.

Yesterday the Governor of this Commonwealth signed Bill No. 1040 which was introduced by me and which provides for a study by the Delaware River Joint Commission, that is the present Bridge Commission, on commerce and navigation and transportation on the Delaware River to the sea. That Commission is or possibly will be, because the bill was signed by Governor Driscoll in New Jersey and by Governor Duff yesterday, that Commission will be shortly undertaking to make a study for this Legislature and report in 1949 as to what is necessary to be done, as to what kind of thing should be constructed in the Delaware, what kind of a plan is necessary for the best development of the Port, what facilities are essential, what kind of a financial plan is necessary in order to meet the necessary requirements to cover the transportation needs in the Port of Philadelphia and along the Delaware River. All these matters will be covered in the report of the Commission to be sent back to this Legislature in 1949. Then on the other hand you would be creating a commission which outside of the ten-mile limit south of the Delaware River Bridge would be authorized to construct a tunnel as it might deem necessary and desirable in conjunction with the State of New Jersey. Therefore, it does not seem to me to be common sense, that having ordered one commission to make a study of the things that are necessary and then turn around and create another commission to enter into the picture and perform duties which might be contrary to the overall plan that might be developed eventually.

Now, Mr. Speaker, I submit those two problems, the first a personal one as to the situation in my own county, and the second is an intelligent approach to the whole question of the Delaware basin.

But, Mr. Speaker, there is a third reason why this bill should be defeated. In the first place, this bill creates a five-man board appointed by the Governor, over whom there is no control other than the fact that the Governor shall once each year appoint a member for five years. The members of this Commission, in contrast with the members of the present Commission, would receive an annual salary of five thousand dollars a year. There is no provision in this bill that that commission should make a report to the Legislature or to the Governor or to any other agency. The commission is given, under this bill, the right to seize almost any land that it wants under the power of eminent domain. Usually legislation of this kind provides that the land to be taken should be used for that purpose, but just let me read the language of this bill, "Such land as it may deem necessary for the construction and operation of the tunnel."

Construction is one thing, but "operation" may control traffic back in the country almost any place. They have the full power under the broadest kind of condemnation proceedings to enter upon land to be taken by filing a bond to take over and disposes the people who live upon it as long as they deem it necessary.

Secondly, this commission may secure properties from political subdivisions without any advertisement or other action or formality. There have been times when there have been complaints that municipal authorities had pretty wide powers. Municipal authorities have to go before the Public Utility Commission, but in this case they would not need either a court order or court proceeding or advertisement or any other requirement.

Then, Mr. Speaker, last but not least, because there are some other defects in this bill, this bill provides that these bonds shall be an investment for trust funds, and any political subdivision, school district or otherwise, can take these bonds as security for bank deposits. You have had a bill at this session that made an authority bond a legal investment for trust funds, but you said in that that the authority must have five years experience before you could make it a legal investment. This does not say one thing about that; there is no guarantee behind these bonds except the good faith of the Commonwealth or any political subdivision and yet without one year of experience or one day of experience these bonds are made a legal investment and can be turned over to trust estates and could be used as security for deposits by our political subdivisions.

Therefore, Mr. Speaker, aside from all other considerations, whether you agree with us in Delaware County, whether you agree it is all right to rip them out, whether you think it is all right to put in a new commission before you have had a chance to study the question, I say this is a bad and defective bill, because there are no safeguards, there are no requirements that they have to report to any body. There is no requirement for an audit in any form or that any salary reports be made to this Commonwealth. There is nothing said in this bill that the Auditor General shall audit the accounts of this authority. There is nothing said in this bill in any way except that the Governor can once each year appoint a man for five years. Therefore, I say to you if you are going to create a commission let us create a commission that will have restrictions upon their authority in such a way that will not only protect the Commonwealth but also those people who have trust funds who might purchase these bonds.

Mr. CHARLES C. SMITH. Mr. Speaker, the gentleman from Delaware, has told us a lot of what are probably half truths. I am surprised that the gentleman from Delaware doubts the integrity of the Governor of the State of Pennsylvania to appoint a respectable, honest and decent commission. This commission is very similar to the Pennsylvania State Turnpike Commission. I think that commission is functioning well. I think all the Members of the House will admit that.

The gentleman from Delaware also said that the Governor signed a bill for the last survey. He forgot about the 65 thousand dollars to be appropriated by Pennsylvania and the 65 thousand dollars by the State of New Jersey, which makes 130 thousand dollars for another survey. He also forgot to state that the Governors when they signed the bill,—the article from the paper states that Governor Driscoll also signed a bill which provides that the five members of the Gloucester County Tunnel Commission shall be appointees of the Governor for a five year term, with Senate confirmation.

I understand that the Governor of the State of New Jersey wants this bill and has gone so far as to appoint the five members from Gloucester County as members of the tunnel commission. I am quite sure that the gentleman from Delaware is right in his contention that the commission as now functioning in Delaware County has done a magnificent job. I cannot deny that. I am quite sure that our Governor will appoint members to this commission that would be right in line with what the Governor in New Jersey has done.

In the first place this program started in 1933, and there is no doubt that something is being done and has been done, but we still do not have a tunnel. In the next place the Governors have made the statement that this is not a county project, it is entirely too much for any county. The State of New Jersey is involved in this the same as Pennsylvania. It is too big for the counties to do; it is a state job.

Furthermore, the Pennsylvania State Turnpike some day, sometime will be constructed to a point at or near the city of Pennsylvania it has been rumored, and I can only say rumored, that at that time the turnpike will go into a tunnel underneath the river. It does not appeal to me as a practical method of solving our difficulties in connection with our turnpike. I trust our Governors and I will trust them in the future. They have done a good job on the Pennsylvania Turnpike, and there is no doubt in my mind they will do a good job on this tunnel in the future.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, I feel that the gentleman from Philadelphia, Mr. Smith, is a very astute Member of this Legislature and a very astute leader. I didn't know that he also has the qualifications of a special pleader. I am not going to be led down the trail by a bit of red herring, but I would like to reply to some things the gentleman from Philadelphia said.

As far as his reference to House Bill No. 1040 and the appropriation is concerned, I see no reference to the issue herebefore the House. In the first place 1040 was amended, which the gentleman from Philadelphia does not realize, so that the 65 thousand dollar appropriation from the states was only to be made by this state in the event that the Delaware River Bridge Commission for some reason could not expend the moneys which it had upon the survey.

In the second place, I do not of course question the appointments to be made by the Governor of Pennsylvania. I have great respect for him. I believe in his integrity and I know he will do everything he can to get the best kind of a commission, but the present Governor of Pennsylvania is only going to be here for less than four years more, and this commission will go on for a long time because they won't even complete the tunnel in four years, and whether or not the Governor appoints as members of the commission men of the highest integrity and employees who are the best kind of people is no reason why we should enact a law to-day that does not have the proper safeguards. We expect our banks and trust companies to have the highest kind of integrity among their employees, but we put safeguards around them. We do not expect certain officials to abscond with money, but we have a bond put up for them. So to assume that because the Governor is a man of integrity and will appoint the best kind of people, and because we have had a good and efficient turnpike commission, is no reason why we should enact a law that leaves the door wide open without requiring any kind of return or report to be made to the Legislature, to the Governor or to any agency of the Commonwealth, or what the counties have done with the moneys that have been expended and how they have raised them, or what the receipts are, is something that has nothing to do with the question of the integrity of these officials.

I say to you again, Mr. Speaker, whether this is to be a State proposition or a county proposition, here is a commission that has been functioning and working. If it had not been for the extremely high cost of constructing such a tunnel in the past four or five or six months, this tunnel would have been well on the way already, and if the gentleman from Philadelphia had felt that we should not have a State Commission, it would seem to me it could have been worked out cooperatively with the Delaware county commission so that they would not come in with a ripper bill and say "Here it is, take it or leave it".

On the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 426

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 14, 1947.
To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 426, Printer's No. 774, entitled "An Act making real estate owned by the Commonwealth or any agency thereof subject to local taxes in certain cases and providing for the payment of such taxes by the Commonwealth or the agency thereof."

This bill would authorize the imposition of local taxes on real estate owned by the Commonwealth or any agency thereof "which is wholly used for any purpose other than State purposes, or for the use, benefit or welfare of the public," after the first year of ownership.

With the exception of the one year limitation and the use of the word "wholly" preceding the words "used for any purpose other than State purposes," this bill is in all respects similar to House Bill No. 1089, Printer's No. 689, of the regular session of the General Assembly of 1945, which was filed with the objections of the Governor in the Office of the Secretary of the Commonwealth, June 4, 1945 (Vetoed by the Governor, Session of 1945, No. 43 P. 77).

I agree with the following statement made in conjunction with the veto of that bill:

"At present, real estate owned by the Commonwealth is not subject to local taxation: Commonwealth v. Dauphin County, 335 Pa. 177 (1939). Apparently, this bill would partially overrule the existing law, and permit taxation of Commonwealth property not used for State purposes.

"It should be presumed that real estate purchased by the Commonwealth with State funds is acquired for State or public purposes. Nevertheless, if the State government should acquire excess property for non-State purposes and withdraw such property from taxation by local political subdivisions, the principle of this bill would be proper.

"However, the language of the bill is not sufficiently specific or precise to accomplish its purpose. Whether or not a tract of State-owned real estate is used 'for any purpose other than State purposes or for the use, benefit or welfare of the public', would be a subject for incessant debate and a variety of opinion, and could never be authoritatively determined. The numerous properties owned by the various departments, boards and commissions of the State government throughout the Commonwealth would be at the mercies of the shifting opinions of successive local taxing authorities on this question and this would subject the Commonwealth to endless inconvenience and litigation.

"Moreover, no funds have been appropriated to the various departments, boards and commissions of the State government for this purpose."

Furthermore, I desire to call attention to the fact that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania is paying out to local communities for local community services much more than most other states in the Union.

For example, in the matter of public assistance, the Commonwealth is paying out in public assistance to various local communities $125,000,000 every two years. Of all the states in the union, only Arizona joins with Pennsylvania in the unusual distinction of paying for local communities the whole cost of public assistance. This is an immense saving by the local communities by a function that they should ordinarily assume at least in part for themselves.

In a number of other particulars not so conspicuous, but nevertheless important, Pennsylvania is doing more out of the State Treasury and at the State level for local communities than most other states.

As long as this tendency continues, it would be fatuous for the State to enter upon a further new policy of surrendering its sovereignty to local communities by giving local communities the power to impose taxes on State property.

While there are some communities in which considerable State property is held that is not subject to taxation, those communities receive vastly more in various kinds of State aid that are not afforded by other states than any amount of money they lose by not being able to tax Commonwealth property.

If a remedy is needed to protect local communities for the Commonwealth too long retaining unused property not subject to taxation, that remedy is not by divesting the Commonwealth of its sovereign power but by a law requiring various agencies of the Commonwealth to sell property not used for Commonwealth purposes after it has been in the possession of the Commonwealth after a certain period.

The final and fundamental opposition I have to this bill, however, is the fact that the Commonwealth cannot continue at the State level to expend the funds that it is paying to local communities for services they ought to render themselves and at the same time subject itself to taxation for its property in those communities for local purposes.

For these reasons, the bill is not approved.

JAMES H. DUFF.

On the question,
Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. BRUNNER. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

THANKS EXTENDED

The SPEAKER. The Chair now recognizes the gentleman from Dauphin, "Maestro Tittle."

Mr. TITTLE. The President of the Senate wishes to thank the Speaker of the House for the House Tongue Twisters who sang over there.

Mr. TURNER. Mr. Speaker, sometime during the dark hours of the night when the Senate, perhaps because of the long session had forgotten just exactly how to function, I understand that they placed in the graveyard House Bill No. 1170. I wish I had known beforehand that the double quartet was going over to the Senate to sing, because I would like to have put some charity and sunshine into their souls. I doubt, however, whether the icy waters that run over there could have been turned into any thing of warmth, but at least they might have sung a little dirge over 1170.

The SPEAKER. The Chair understands the gentleman from Delaware would have desired the octet of the House to sing "Roll out the Barrel." The Chair is informed that the only reason the Tongue Twisters of the House were invited to the Senate was because the Senators needed something to keep them awake. They thought this might be a good method to apply.

Mr. TITTLE. Mr. Speaker, they are now awake.

RESOLUTION

TRIBUTE TO FLAG

Mr. ROYER offered a resolution which was read, considered and adopted as follows:

In the House of Representatives, June 14, 1947.

On June the 14th, 1777, the Continental Congress adopted the flag, first made by Betsy Ross in Philadelphia, as the National emblem of a new nation, then struggling to continue and maintain its existence. It was a flag "representing a new constellation" of states, a new venture in democratic government; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth in which this symbol of freedom and independence was born, now assembled at the close of another biennial legislative session, hereby pays tribute to the flag, adopted by another legislative assembly, 170 years ago, and to that courageous assembly that, in removing the Union Jack from the flag then in use and replacing it with a new and untried symbol, so boldly proclaimed the total independence of the United States of America.

The SPEAKER. This being Flag Day, the Chair requests that all Members and visitors rise and repeat the oath of allegiance to the flag. Please face the flag at the Speaker's right.

(The oath of Allegiance was repeated by the members and visitors.)

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 1333

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,

Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 14, 1947.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1333, Printer's No. 615, entitled "An Act to further amend subsection (b) of section five hundred eight of the act approved the ninth day of April one thousand nine hundred twenty-nine (P. L. 177) entitled 'An act providing for and reorganizing the conduct of the executive and administrative work of the Commonwealth by the Executive Department thereof and the administrative departments boards commissions and officers thereof including the boards of trustees of State Normal Schools or Teachers Colleges abolishing creating reorganizing or authorizing the reorganization of certain administrative departments boards and commissions defining the powers and duties of the Governor and other executive and administrative officers and of the several administrative departments boards commissions and officers fixing the salaries of the Governor Lieutenant Governor and certain other executive and administrative officers providing for the appointment of certain administrative officers and of all deputies and other assistants and employes in certain departments boards and commissions and prescribing the manner in which the number and compensation of the deputies and all other assistants and employes of certain departments boards and commissions shall be determined' as amended by further defining the duties of the Department of Property and Supplies regarding State institutions."

This bill would require the Department of Property and Supplies to be responsible for the maintenance and repairs of all buildings and equipment at State institutions. In addition the bill would require the Department of Property and Supplies to inspect the various State institutions and formulate biennial budgetary requests for maintenance, repairs and improvements.

This bill neither defines maintenance nor repair, and literally interpreted it could be construed as including such relatively minor repairs as patching linoleum, leaking roofs, and innumerable other conditions, the immediate cure of which by maintenance crews maintained by the institutions are sufficient to prevent deterioration or avoid extensive and costly repairs.

At present under Section 508 (a) of the Administrative Code of 1929, being the Act of April 9, 1929, P. L. 177, as amended, the Department of Property and Supplies is charged with making alterations and additions to State buildings except where the amount involved is less than four thousand ($4,000.) dollars. The various State institutions at the present have maintenance employes under the jurisdiction of their departments, who attempt to make necessary small repairs to mechanical plants, improvements and buildings. The effect of this bill would be to transfer the work of these employes to the Department of Property and Supplies. It would greatly expand the work of the Department of Property and Supplies at a time when they are heavily involved in a post-war construction program.

Although it may be desirable to transfer this work to the Department of Property and Supplies, it would disrupt present procedure which is being followed with apparent success. Moreover it does not seem desirable to transfer to the Department of Property and Supplies the duty of preparing biennial budgetary requests for improvements for the various agencies of the State since they may not be too familiar with the functional requirements of such agencies as the Department of Welfare, Department of Health or Department of Public Instruction.

Moreover there is no doubt in my mind that what is desired to be accomplished by this bill may be achieved by administrative cooperation.

For these reasons the bill is not approved.

JAMES H. DUFF.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. WORLEY. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

COMMUNICATION FROM THE GOVERNOR

The Secretary to the Governor being introduced, presented a communication in writing from His Excellency the Governor, which was read as follows:

VETO OF HOUSE BILL No. 1334

Commonwealth of Pennsylvania,
Governor's Office, Harrisburg, June 14, 1947.

To the Honorable, the House of Representatives of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania:

I return herewith, without my approval, House Bill No. 1334, Printer's No. 616, entitled "An act reappropriating certain appropriations made by the General Assembly during the session of one thousand nine hundred forty-seven."

This bill would reappropriate to the Department of Property and Supplies from the various State departments, independent boards and independent commissions of the Commonwealth all moneys appropriated by the General Assembly at any time during the Session of 1947 for the maintenance and repairs of buildings, equipment, land and improvements made to State agencies.

This is a companion bill to House Bill No. 1333, Printer's No. 615, which I have this day returned without my approval.

The present bill is contingent upon the passage of House Bill No. 1333, Printer's No. 615, and would give full force and effect to that bill if it were enacted into law. Since that bill has been returned without my approval, I must likewise return this bill.

For this reason the bill is not approved.

JAMES H. DUFF.

On the question,

Shall the bill become a law, the veto of the Governor to the contrary notwithstanding?

Mr. WOOD. Mr. Speaker, I move that the communication, together with the bill be laid upon the table.

The motion was agreed to.

SENATE

MONDAY, June 16, 1947

The Senate met at 1:00 o'clock, p. m., Eastern Standard Time.

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

PRAYER

In the absence of the Chaplain prayer was offered by the gentleman from Schuylkill, Senator WAGNER.

Our gracious Heavenly Father, as we come to Thee in the closing hours of a strenuous legislative session, we pause gratefully to give thanks for that measure of health and strength that Thou hast given us all to carry on with the duties assigned to us. If we have made mistakes, if we have given vent to anger at times, if we have done, any of us, anything that offended our brothers, we ask on this concluding day Thy forgiveness and Thy understanding. Grant that our deliberations in these last moments, and the things that we have done and the things that legislators do in future sessions, may at least approach the ideal that Thy prophets prayed for for generations, that justice may roll down like the rivers and righteousness like a mighty stream.

Watch over us, watch over the people whom we represent, and guide this great Commonwealth in Godly ways. This we ask as we pray for salvation in the name of the Saviour. Amen!

JOURNAL APPROVED

The PRESIDENT. A quorum of the Senate being present the Clerk will read the Journal of the preceding session.

The Clerk proceeded to read the Journal of the preceding session, when, on motion of Mr. TALLMAN and Mr. WATSON, further reading was dispensed with, and the Journal was approved.

("JOHNNIE CALL FOR PHILIP MORRIS" PRESENTED TO SENATE)

The PRESIDENT. Gentlemen of the Senate, we have in the Senate Chamber today a very familiar person, whose voice has been heard over the radio many times, I am going to call to the rostrum "Johnnie"—Johnnie, will you come forward.

("Johnnie ascended the rostrum.")

The PRESIDENT. I want to say, Johnnie, we have a lot of stirring speakers in this Senate and some fine voices, but I would like the Senators to hear you shout out as you do many times over the radio.

"JOHNNY": Thank you very much, Lieutenant-Governor. Gentleman, it is really a pleasure, the privilege of appearing here. As I said to the other gentlemen in the House of Representatives, brevity has always been my greatest asset in life and so, for identification, I would like to give you my call—"Call for Philip Morris"—and I thank you very much.

REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE ON HOUSE BILL No. 417

Mr. HOMSHER. Mr. President, I submit the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 417, entitled:

An Act to further amend the act, approved the eighteenth day of May, one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 309), entitled "Public School Code," by further providing for the minimum compensation and increments of members of the teaching and supervisory staffs of school districts and vocational school districts, county superintendents, assistant county superintendents and district superintendents; and providing for reimbursement by the Commonwealth; and repealing certain provisions of said act.

The PRESIDENT. The report will lie over for printing under the rules.

RECESS

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for one hour.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

NOMINATIONS FOR PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE FOR THE INTERIM

Mr. WADE. On at least one other occasion, Mr. President, it has been my happy privilege to place in nomination for President pro tempore of the Senate for the interim the name of my very close colleague, and when I say very close I mean both geographically and on the basis of friendship and admiration.

It is the usual custom, as you all know, by colleagues, to nominate and elect some one of the Senate members to this very important position. It is important, of course, during a session, but in my judgment it is equally important, if not more so, to have someone centrally located and someone with the keen judgment and deliberation necessary to keep an even balance between not only the Republican members but the members of the other side as well.

This gentleman has distinguished himself in the Senate. During the past eight years his record has been one of leadership and one of furnishing to the Senate the even balance and equilibrium that we so frequently need on the delicate measures with which we wrestle.

And with that, my colleagues, I want to say that I again have the distinction and very exceptional privilege of placing in nomination for the office of President pro tempore of the Senate during the interim the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor, who represents the Dauphin County District here in the Senate and who, as you know and will agree, has furnished the fine leadership we have had in this body.

Therefore, Mr. President, I place in nomination the name of M. Harvey Taylor.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I think nothing needs to be added to what has already been said concerning Senator Taylor by the gentleman from Cumberland and therefore, Mr. President, on behalf of the Republican caucus, I desire to second that nomination.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any other nominations?

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, on behalf of the Democratic minority, I wish, perhaps, that I could just take the words of my good friend from Cumberland, Senator Wade, and just change the name of the county, and all the nice things he has said here about our good friend M. Harvey Taylor, in place of that name I would like to place the name of my friend and our minority leader, the gentleman from Westmoreland, John H. Dent, for President pro tempore for the interim.

MR. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I recall vividly the day I was sworn into the Senate. My father was in the Senate Chamber and as we were going through the motions of electing a President pro tempore and other officers, and the vote each time came out 32 to 18, he looked sort of puzzled and afterwards he said to me, "Why do you go through all that trouble when you know what the vote will be in advance?" I said, "Dad, that is the custom, it is our method of indicating the esteem in which we hold the man whom we place in nomination."

It is for that reason, Mr. President, I take extra pleasure in seconding the nomination of my colleague, John H. Dent from Westmoreland County, for the office of President pro tempore.

The PRESIDENT. Are there any other nominations?

NOMINATIONS CLOSED

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that nominations for President pro tempore of the Senate, during the interim, be closed.

Mr. LETZLER. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

The PRESIDENT. On the election of the President pro tempore during the interim, the Chief Clerk will call the roll, and the clerks of the Senate will act as tellers. The candidates are the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor of Dauphin County and the Honorable John H. Dent of Westmoreland County.

ELECTION OF PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE MADE UNANIMOUS

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that the vote by which the Honorable M. Harvey Taylor was elected President pro tempore of the Senate for the interim be made unanimous.

Mr. ROSENFELD. I second the motion, Mr. President. It was agreed to.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT PRO TEMPORE

Mr. TAYLOR. Mr. President, gentleman of the Senate, I thought of a lot of things I wanted to say while I was sitting down there in my seat, but they have all gone out the window. I can not think of anything to say except to sincerely thank you and say I will try to be true to the trust that has been placed in me. When I come back next year I expect to be able to vote for another gentleman as President pro tempore of the Senate. So that gives everybody who has any ambition a chance to start his campaign now. Thank you very much.

The PRESIDENT. Installation of the President pro tempore will take place later this evening.

RECONSIDERATION OF VOTE BY WHICH SENATE CONCURRED IN HOUSE AMENDMENTS TO SENATE BILL No. 861

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The PRESIDENT. How did the Senator vote?

Mr. TARR. Mr. President, I voted with the majority.

The motion was agreed to.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I desire to state to the Senate the reason I asked for this unusual procedure is because the House re-amended this bill to put into it the objectionable feature that we had fought bitterly on the floor of this Senate, that is, to allow search without warrant. We do not believe that is a principle that we ought to adhere to; we believe that it will cause a great deal of inconvenience and will allow a situation to again exist in this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania that has laid dormant since Cornwallis surrendered at Yorktown.

Search without warrant is the greatest depriver of personal liberties that has ever been known in organized government. There is no legislation or no act of this Commonwealth of Pennsylvania so important that the liberties of the people ought to be violated by any enforcement agent of any kind whatever to the extent of a search without a warrant.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, this principle that is involved in the amendment in this bill is not a new one. In this Commonwealth we have on our statute books at the present time law which permits the same kind of thing which is provided for in the amendments which are now the subject of discussion in this bill.

The law now provides that there is a similar right of search and seizure, which is given with respect to enforcement of the game laws. There is also in the law today a similar provision with regard to enforcement of the liquor law. It seems to me that these provisions in the existing law fall under two classifications. There is, for instance, a distinction between the kind of search and seizure which is allowed in the enforcement of the fish and game laws and the kind of search and seizure which is allowed in the enforcement of the liquor law.

In the one instance, with regard to the fish and game laws, the right given by the Legislature of search and seizure is the right to search, accompanied by the right of seizure of only the contraband article. In the case of the right given with the enforcement of the liquor law, that right entails a more rigorous one, and there the right of search is given and that right of seizure not only applies against contraband but the vehicle itself. It seems to me this amendment is quite in keeping with what we have done before and it is not a new principle.

The real objection is that it comes with regard to cigarettes and on that score, Mr. President, I want to say that certainly if this Commonwealth is to be able to collect the revenues which it needs in order to carry out those obligations which we here in the Legislature within this session have placed upon it, then certainly we ought in all fairness take the position that we are going to do those things that are necessary to make certain we will get those revenues. We ought not sit here and vote to invite people to avoid the payment of taxes and we ought not vote to permit people to avoid their obligations as Pennsylvanians to pay those necessary obligations of the government which they share in. It seems to me that it would be wrong if we did not do something to prevent those citizens, who have not got a regard for their obligations and their duties as citizens, from violating the law by bringing into this state contraband goods which will deny the Commonwealth the right to revenue which it ought to receive.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President. There is certainly a great deal of difference in the situation as it is outlined by the majority floor leader, because even during the days when this country of ours was in the midst of the noble experiment of prohibition, the courts of the land recognized the domain of a man's home as his own castle and never allowed invasion of his personal and family rights. You must realize that, under this act, any suspicion that a man may have a carton of cigarettes in his home, that he may have picked up in traveling back and forth over the various state lines, is cause for search and seizure.

There are no restrictions as to the house. A man may come there with or without a uniformed policeman, and he may knock upon a person's door and enter, and there is nothing here to stop forcible entry, and I do not believe any pack of cigarettes or carton of cigarettes is worth the breaking down of the principal of a man's home being his castle and the domain where he keeps to the best of his ability the safety of his family.

Article 1, Section 8 of the Constitution reads: "The people shall be secure in their persons, houses, papers and possessions from unreasonable searches and seizures, and no warrant to search any place or to seize any person or things shall issue without describing them as nearly as may be, nor without probable cause, supported by oath or affirmation subscribed to by the affiant."

I want to say to the members of this Senate that when cigarettes become such an object of scrutiny that a man's home is to be violated in search of what may be termed contraband, because this legislature seeks to place upon this particular item an exorbitant tax and makes it valuable as contraband—I do not believe ordinary decent citizens of this Commonwealth are going to violate the tax laws of this Commonwealth to the extent that such a bill must be placed upon the statute books. We have licensing acts in Pennsylvania and under these very acts the dealers who would be the greatest violators are still violators. This thing reaches out into the homes of the individual citizens.

I personally will say to the members of this Senate I do not believe any of my constituents are going to make a habit of having contraband cigarettes in their homes. As far as making contraband liquor the object of search, I do not believe that the citizens in my district—other than those who do travel and who can well afford and do pay the taxes—keep in their homes any contraband liquor.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, as I understand the situation, and I merely rise to say this so that the record may be clear, there is no wording in these amendments which would endeavor to give the right of search without a warrant, in a man's home.

I should also like to suggest to the gentleman from Westmoreland that if that were attempted it would undoubtedly be unconstitutional and I suggest to him that in the present form of this amendment the constitutional right which is guaranteed is fully protected.

I should also like to state that the whole purpose of this act, just as is the case with many other similar acts, is to prevent from doing so those people who are going to engage and want to engage in a direct violation of the law, by bootlegging cigarettes into this Commonwealth in quantity, and that is the only purpose and the only reason for the passage of this act.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, may we be at ease a moment? Several men on our side want to read this bill and see if it says what the majority floor leader says it does.

(The Senate was at ease)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate concur in the amendments?

SENATE CONCURS IN AMENDMENTS MADE BY THE HOUSE TO SENATE BILL No. 861

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on House Bill No. 195.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have served on this conference committee and do not agree with the report. In other words, this bill, even now, as written in the second conference report, is not a bill for equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex. It could be very easily understood if it were just a bill providing equal pay for an equal work period.

Equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex, is fair and easily understood.

To make the application of this theory contingent upon any other consideration, is to provide the opportunity for circumvention of the intent of the theory that equal pay for equal work should prevail.

Skill is relative and subject to all forms of interpretation. If the employer can decide that equal pay only applies where equal skill prevails, it puts into the hands of the employer the right to negate the intent of equal pay for equal work by merely declaring that a difference in skill prevails.

An employer could even say that because a worker possesses less skill than another—even though said skill is not required in the specific job being performed—he is to receive less pay than the other worker.

To say equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex, shall prevail and then to modify this by saying that variations in pay can prevail, based upon either difference in seniority, experience, training skill or ability, or any other reasonable differentiation, is to completely negate the intent of this act.

A more perfect way to legally provide means to circumvent and pervert the intent of the principle of equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex, could hardly be devised.

As the bill now stands it is not a bill for equal pay for equal work, regardless of sex. It is so written that it is simply a subterfuge, but it fails, just as I said here before about House Bill 417, being a bill of which the number was given to a lot of people and therefore if the bill passed they thought it would be the same as when it was first introduced.

The same thing holds true with respect to House Bill 95. As now written this bill is not satisfactory to the sponsors of the bill, the women who wrote the bill. I called them, Mr. President, and they informed me that the bill does not provide equal pay for equal work regardless of sex, as it now stands.

The amendment as passed completely defeats the purposes of the bill and I ask those who are interested in fairness to vote against the conference report.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I call attention to the fact that the name of the sponsor appears as one of the signers of the conference committee report, indicating her approval of the bill as it now stands.

Mr. HOLLAND. I want to correct the gentleman from Butler. Mrs. Dye presented this bill for a group of women, and the women who wrote this bill say that the bill as it now exists is not the bill that they originally had. In other words, this now is an illegitimate child of the people who started the movement to get equal pay for equal work regardless of sex.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

The yeas and nays were taken agreeably to the provisions of the Constitution, and were as follows, viz:

YEAS—34

Becker,	Farrell	Manany.	Wade

On the question,

Will the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference?

SENATE ADOPTS REPORT OF COMMITTEE OF CONFERENCE

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate adopt the report of the Committee of Conference on Senate Bill No. 218.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, I have to seriously object to concurrence in this particular committee report. If you read this amendment very closely on page 5, Senate Bill 218, and the report of the Committee on Conference, you will read—first let me say the right to vote, Mr. President, to me means a very important right, it is a sacred right, our very government depends on the right to vote, and when one attempts to interfere with it he is committing treason, in my mind, because without the right to vote, without our representative form of government we would have more or less dictatorship.

I see in this bill a joker of the worst form and I will now read it to you, this pertains to nomination petitions as filed with either the elections bureau in any particular county or with the Secretary of the Commonwealth. Whenever petitions are filed under this bill it is not necessary for the elections bureau of any particular county or the state to examine into the genuineness of the signatures.

I will say I very seldom wax politic on the floor—I try to discuss the issue—but, however, this is strictly a political bill, as framed and prepared by the attorney for the Republican City Committee of Philadelphia. He has misstated the facts to me, not on one occasion but on many other occasions, and this very same attorney, who today represents the soda pop people, represents the Republican City Committee of Philadelphia, to fight this bill, and they have succeeded in some measure, and I know whereof I speak. This man is in this particular room now and he prepared this particular amendment. He also prepared Senate Bill 284 and presented it to one of our honorable Senators. They saw fit to change it so that the Registration Commission would have to compare signatures, between the voter's card and the registration card. However, they did finally manage to put through Senate Bill 219 which sets up two division leaders in every particular division as a unit rather than going to the courts. God pity the Commonwealth when we have such things existing in the state of Pennsylvania.

Coming back to this bill, with respect to the filing of nomination petitions it says, "Provided however that the Secretary of the Commonwealth or the County Board of Elections, although not hereby required so to do, may question the genuineness of any signature or signatures appearing thereon and if he or it shall thereupon find that any such signature or signatures are not genuine, such signature or signatures shall be disregarded in determining whether the nomination petition, nomination paper or nomination certificate contains a sufficient number of signatures as required by law."

What does that mean? It brings back to my memory the case of the American Labor Party—I think that particular case is very clear in our minds—when a certain group can act to organize and obtain thousands of signatures, most of them false—one of the men was convicted, the other was found not guilty by a jury in the city of Philadelphia, of preparing a false and fake nomination petition to combat the Democratic party. To me it does not make any difference whether it be done against the Democratic party or the Republican party, but if we are to have nominations let us be honest about them. After all, what is the purpose of the elections bureau? We have the County Commissioner's office or the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office and he has five days within which to examine signatures. When this bill was originally presented to us it said permissive, it was not compulsory. That means what—those he does not like he may discard; those he does like he can ignore.

Why can he not do the work within five days? Is there not enough help? If not, give it to him.

There is only one thought in mind in seeking this amendment to the election code—to cheat, steal, and commit fraud on an unsuspecting public, and in doing that we defeat the very purpose of our right to vote, the right of franchise, which is an important right. And I say to you, Mr. President and gentlemen of the Senate, this particular matter was the subject of considerable controversy a few weeks ago. I feel very keenly about it. He who attempts to destroy the right to vote or interfere with the right of the ballot is not an American. Say what you will, we can condemn subversive groups, particularly the communists, but we in our own group are ready to say, because we do not have enough help, go ahead, gentlemen, file your petitions, you do not have to examine them, that is perfectly all right. The Democratic party is the minority but it may be the Republican party tomorrow that may be in the minority—that does not make any difference—but it is very important when any man is running for office, whether you run for office or I run for office or any other man, whether the office be the presidency of the United States.

Will you please excuse me, Mr. Heyburn, with your tricks; you are not kidding anybody here; you want the same attention as I ask and I am entitled to have it and that is all I ask. You are kidding about everything; cut it out if you know what is good for you. This is a very important matter. You heard what I said. I expect order here, Mr. President. I think the Senator from Delaware County owes it to everyone here, particularly in view of the fact that he may be a candidate for Governor—at least he hopes to be—three and a half years from now.

The PRESIDENT. The Senate will be in order; the gentleman from Philadelphia is entitled to the floor.

Mr. JASPAN. I ask you again, Mr. President, if you want to open the door to fraud in nomination petitions filed by a group, by anybody, without any examination made of the signatures? What does it amount to? I can file and sign his name, your name or anybody else's name. Does the Senate know what they are looking for? Is this Marshall Morgan, attorney for the Republican City Committee, so powerful that he can put over his brand of bill against the wishes of government, against your wishes and mine? We want fair, efficient elections and every man is entitled to have them. Any man running for office needs a certain number of signatures on his nomination petition and they should be legitimate, decent, legible, honest signatures and not be put on by phonies today comprising the majority of the Republicans in the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. KEPHART. Mr. President, I just want to explain this bill a little bit. The Secretary of the Commonwealth and the county boards of elections are really never closed to receive these nomination petitions. There are certain formalities that have to be gone through. The question here is whether they should have genuine signatures and how far the secretary is obliged to go to determine whether the signatures on them are genuine.

As a practical matter what happens is this—on the last day for filing nomination petitions, either in the Secretary's office or the county board, a whole stack of them comes in and all he has time to do is to go through the petitions and check the formalities—check them to see whether they are signed, without determining whether the signatures are genuine or not—he is not a handwriting expert and that is all he can do, go through them, count them and see that the other formalities are complied with, without checking as to their genuineness.

If anybody thinks they are not genuine, that is covered in the next section of the bill, which provides for "Petitions—Nominating Petition and Papers"—that is not covered in this section we are amending; that is left as it always has been, and if anybody thinks that signatures are not genuine, all he has to do is to file a petition with the court to knock the signature out.

Mr. President, this law is a perfectly sound law. It gives the Secretary and the county boards, if either of them think some signatures are not genuine, the power to question them, but that does not impose upon him the duty of being a handwriting expert, which he is not qualified to perform and does not have the time to perform, at the very last minute when he has this pile of nomination petitions before him.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I think the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Kephart, has the wrong slant on this bill. In my opinion it means signatures can be fraudulent. As I read this bill, all it does is to open the door in our election contests to fraud.

The election bureau in the state only has two times every odd year on which nomination papers are filed and I do not think they are overworked. Our county board of elections in our county, they only have two days such as this each year, and I do not think they are overworked.

Mr. President, I can see a situation every second year, with two hundred eight men running for representatives in the House, and that would be four hundred sixteen, at least, because they have opposition, and I can see the same thing over here with twenty-five Senators being elected, which, with their opponents, makes fifty, besides all the other candidates who may have opposition—it would be almost a necessity for each one to have a lawyer over in the Secretary of the Commonwealth's office. If I were a member of this Senate I would look this bill over very carefully, because, unless you want to come up here the last day for filing, you are laying yourselves open to a lot of unfair competition by a lot of fraudulent petitions by people who may have been your enemies because you could not help them in some political manner.

I know our county board of elections in the last twelve years has been able to clean up the elections and they have entered objection to this bill, because as written now it opens the door to fraudulent petitions—you are writing it into the law and I say you are opening the door to fraudulent petitions.

And the question recurring,
Will the Senate agree to the motion?

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,
Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I know this seems to be such a simple piece of legislation that no one should be disturbed over it, and I am not particularly disturbed, except every two years we come in here and worry about increasing services in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania and I am going to suggest to the members on both sides of the Senate that this is just another one of the bags we have to hold open every year; it is just a question that every two years we have to do a lot of leg work for these different organizations. This time it is apples, next time it will be tomatoes, squash and everything else.

I suggest to the members of the Senate, to save future headaches, they vote "no" on this particular proposition.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 726, as follows:

An Act to amend section two of the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Section two of the act approved the twelfth day of May one thousand nine hundred eleven (P. L. 295) entitled "A supplement to an act entitled 'An act for the government of cities of the second class' approved the seventh day of March Anno Domini one thousand nine hundred and one providing for the levy collection and disbursement of taxes and water-rents or rates and conferring certain powers and duties in reference thereto upon the city treasurer the board of water assessors and the collector of delinquent taxes and repealing certain acts relating to matters herein provided for" is hereby amended to read as follows

Section 2 The councils of said cities of the second class shall be and they are hereby authorized empowered and directed to fix the amounts of money which will be required to defray all the various expenses necessary for conducting the various departments and also to fix the amounts of money necessary for the payment of the interest and principal upon the indebtedness of said cities and the separate indebtedness of any portion or division thereof and for all other municipal purposes and said councils are hereby authorized empowered and directed annually to cause a tax sufficient for all of said purposes to be levied and collected out of the estate real and personal subject to taxation within said cities Provided however That taxes shall not be levied by any such city in any one year upon land at a rate to exceed twenty-eight (28) mills nor upon buildings at a rate to exceed fourteen (14) mills

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, this bill is a peculiar piece of legislation, in which the Legislature sets itself up as a body that understands the fiscal problems of the city of Pittsburgh.

We are not stating in this legislation that a certain limitation on real estate taxes must be set and established, we are saying that the present taxes in the city of Pittsburgh are sufficient and from now on, henceforth, they shall never be any higher.

We are disregarding entirely the situation relative to the Commonwealth itself. It would be just as feasible and logical for citizens of the city of Pittsburgh to pass legislation and say because the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania has assessed a certain amount of tax revenue, that amount shall be sufficient for the Commonwealth from now on and that we, the citizens of the city of Pittsburgh, shall refuse from now on to pay any additional state taxes because we believe that you have enough money now in your state treasury to meet the necessary and extraordinary expenses of the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, we are going through a terrible situation in the far and mid-west of this great nation. I understand from the papers that over one million acres of valuable farming and grazing land are inundated and useless for this year's crops and grazing.

Mr. President, that situation happened in Pittsburgh in 1937 in the great flood, in the Saint Patrick's Day floods. At that time, Mr. President, the city was called upon to reach into its coffers for extraordinary expenses.

We now say winds, storms and devastating snows are to forever hold back and no longer will the city of Pittsburgh be faced with a situation where they will need extraordinary finances to meet a situation that may be called an emergency.

I say if this Legislature can determine the full and total tax need of the city of Pittsburgh, then perhaps through careful study they can get a limitation upon the tax to be assessed but, Mr. President, when you say Pittsburgh must not ever raise its present tax millage on real estate—I do not believe that any man in politics, or any man in government, local or otherwise, tries to assess taxes beyond the need of that community, and I know too that no member of the City Council of Pittsburgh is anxious to or will unnecessarily raise the real estate taxes of that great metropolis, and I do not believe this Legislature has the right to tie the hands of the city fathers of the city of Pittsburgh, because no man in this room is qualified to say what the maximum need maybe.

I believe the people of the city of Pittsburgh will determine when their tax limit has reached that point that the city is wasting its money and by its open elections they will defeat any person who assesses against them taxes greater than the government needs to carry on the welfare of that community. And so I say to you this Legislature has no business at this time freezing the taxes of the city of Pittsburgh and it looks to me like a specific move by the majority because the city of Pittsburgh happens to be in the hands of the Democratic party politically.

I do not believe—and I will use the words of the majority leader—that it comes in good grace for the majority side of this Legislature to pass this type of legislation. No man in this room can say what tomorrow will demand of the taxing authorities of the city of Pittsburgh in order that the health and welfare of the people of that community will not be endangered by any unforeseen incident or accident.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I am rather surprised to find objection from the other side, by the minority floor leader, to this ceiling on the millage on real estate in the city of Pittsburgh, because we already have in the law ceilings on the millage on real estate in townships, first-class cities and substantially every sub-division in Pennsylvania except Philadelphia and Pittsburgh.

I am particularly surprised, however, to hear the minority floor leader get up and make objection to it, because just last week we passed House Bill 800, which was a bill for the purpose of broadening the tax base of the various sub-divisions in the Commonwealth and the minority leader was the one who introduced an amendment which would put a ceiling on the taxing powers under that bill. I can not understand why he would want to put a ceiling on, under that bill, and then object so much to our putting a ceiling on here.

For a number of years we have heard a lot of people, including members of the council of the city of Pittsburgh and the city solicitor, and others, saying that the real estate tax in the city of Pittsburgh was much too high and should be reduced.

Now, since Pittsburgh has received these broader powers in their means of raising taxation, we think that it is time to stop fooling the people back home. When you say we think their real estate tax should be reduced, this bill in itself does not reduce their real estate taxes but it does say you are paying enough taxes on real estate now and we will pass legislation to see that you do not need to pay any higher tax on real estate, since we have given to the city other means and methods of raising additional revenue, up to one hundred per cent increase, in so far as the amount that can be raised from taxation on real estate, and I ask my colleague to vote "aye" on this bill.

Mr. DENT. I will answer the gentleman from Allegheny as best I can. He said there was a ceiling on townships, boroughs and so forth. We agree with that, and we are not objecting to a ceiling being placed, but how could they determine that the present millage is that ceiling? It is not a question of a ceiling, it is a question of freezing. Naturally the city of Pittsburgh had to take into consideration whatever legislation might finally come out of this Senate and House of Representatives, and be signed by the Governor, as to giving them additional rights in the matter of taxation.

Then, Mr. President, neither the Senator from Allegheny, Mr. Geltz nor anyone else, can state to this Senate that the present ceiling, or the present amount of taxes, is the over-all ceiling that shall be allowed in the city of Pittsburgh.

I might say, Mr. President, that when ceilings were being placed on real estate taxes all over this Commonwealth, the then majority, the Republican party, and the then Republican mayor of the city of Pittsburgh and Republican council refused to have the city of Pittsburgh considered in that broad category and they did not put a ceiling on Pittsburgh at that time.

If they felt at that time that they could not afford to put a ceiling on, how can they come before this Senate and say now that the present tax is all they can raise.

And then, Mr. President, I will answer the gentleman from Allegheny by saying that the amendment that I submitted the other day, in which I put a ceiling on the ordinary revenues that may be raised if this legislation passed, House Bill 800, was an amendment that took into consideration the freezing of local government expenses which are being carried forward by collection of real estate taxes. It is only reasonable to assume, Mr. President, that if they can collect one hundred per cent more taxes in that community, there certainly ought to be then no bounds on any spending that they can possibly conceive, within reason and without reason.

Mr. President, the basis of that amendment was this—in the various communities there are some productive facilities, there are some conditions and some assets that can be taxed that would yield an unlimited amount of taxable revenue, if in that community you had a taxing authority that would go crazy and try to tax and assess on their ability to do so. I can think, Mr. President, of a wage tax in the city of Pittsburgh, for instance, or Philadelphia, if you had some local authority who would want to step that tax up to a ten, fifteen or twenty per cent wage tax, that would raise more money than the whole Commonwealth needs, and I want to say to you when any community can not get along with a hundred per cent additional revenue, the time has come when somebody had better examine the books and accounts of the Commonwealth and of the various localities, and if you say it would not be possible for any community to have such taxing authority then you have no authority to vote for this bill, because you are saying in substance that the city fathers of the city of Pittsburgh do not know when to stop on taxation.

Is there any man in this room who can stand up and say to this Senate that he knows, because of the record, that the city of Pittsburgh is assessing taxes beyond what they need for city uses? Is there any person in this room who can say, and say honestly, that the amount of money now being spent in the city of Pittsburgh is all they shall ever need?

I say to you, Mr. President, that this particular piece of legislation is a punitive piece of legislation, aimed at the Democratic party now in control of the city of Pittsburgh, by the juggernaut Republican majority in the state administration in Harrisburg.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, the minority leader asked the question how do we know this ceiling is the proper ceiling, and all I can say to him is this, that the democratic city solicitor of the city of Pittsburgh, Ann Alpern, the chairman of the finance committee of the city council, Jack Duff, and another member of council Joe McArdle, all have said real estate taxes in the city of Pittsburgh are too high and should be reduced.

With the legislation we put through the other day, House Bill No. 800, we are very hopeful city council in Pittsburgh will reduce taxes on real estate, since they have a chance to get additional revenue under House Bill 800.

Mr. ROSENFELD. Mr. President, I would like to remind all the Senators from Philadelphia, both Democrats and Republicans, if they vote in favor of this bill they would be bound to vote in favor of a similar bill affecting the city of Philadelphia.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, Senator Dent, when he said it would be just as practical for the city council in Pittsburgh to pass a resolution saying legislative taxes in Pennsylvania were enough, pretty well explained the situation.

In my opinion, Mr. President, the city of Pittsburgh the first of the year is going to be able to cut real estate taxes, providing the governor enacts into law by his signature Bill No. 800 but, personally, the way 800 is now, with all the amendments in it, you are going to have to carry it through every court in the state, I know, and just when the city will be able to impose any taxes on things other than real estate, that I can not answer.

This bill today carries me back two years ago, on a corresponding day, when there were a couple of these three-legged turkeys sponsored by some of my Republican friends from Allegheny county—to try, politically I suppose, to embarrass the city administration because it is democratic. If you pass this bill, gentlemen, I will say it is not going to embarrass them at all. I think every gentleman in this Senate, from their speeches made here, knows the city of Pittsburgh in the last three years has been operating with deficit financing, which we all know is not good business, and the reason they went to the system of deficit financing was that they did not want to increase the real estate tax in the city, which we all know is altogether too high.

Mr. President, I do not know the city administration in Pittsburgh is always going to be democratic, and I do not know that it is always going to be guided by the very able mayor we have, Mr. Lawrence, so consequently I do not think we should legislate for future years.

The last time the millage was up over thirty, Mr. President, was in the last Republican administration in the city of Pittsburgh, and at that time it was 32 on land and 16 on buildings.

In 1936 the city of Pittsburgh was visited, on St. Patrick's Day, by a terrific catastrophe, known as the St. Patrick's Day Flood, and at that time, Mr. President, the city suffered a terrific loss. I do not know when a similar tragedy will strike the city again—I hope it never does—but we should not fix this limit; there should be always provision for an emergency.

I just want to take another moment to quote from an editorial which appeared in the Pittsburgh Press last week headed "The Broad Tax Base"; I will not take the time to read it all but I will quote this part:

"THE 'BROAD' TAX BASE"

"When it comes to tax levies, the State has been stingy as all get-out toward Pennsylvania cities.

"Pittsburgh, like other cities, is at the mercy of the Legislature. Powers of the municipal corporation have been rigidly restricted, especially as to taxing.

"The Legislature has been saying to the people of this metropolis: 'You may have a city, all right. But any time you wish to do anything, you'll have to see us.'

"Until now, the City has been forbidden to tax anything except real estate. And not all real estate, at that. Not utility real estate, for instance. And not many other kinds of real estate.

"But Pittsburgh, like every other major city, has been having troubles. Expenses have risen. More services have been added. Revenues, meanwhile, have been slipping. There is more to do and less to do it with.

"So now the Legislature, mainly in line with Governor Duff's policy of giving local units of government more responsibility and more tools with which to work, is in the process of 'broadening' the Pittsburgh tax base.

"The House has passed a bill which will give every municipality in Pennsylvania the power to tax anything not taxed by the State.

"It is argued that this bill will give the local official 'too much power.' How can that be? It is less than the power already retained for itself by the Legislature. And it can be withdrawn, practically without notice.

"Yet only a few of the 258 legislators are responsive to the wishes of the people of Pittsburgh.

"But the Mayor and City Council are responsive to the people of Pittsburgh. And if they are not, the people can kick them out.

"So it is in the interests of the people here to give City Hall some leeway in its taxing power. If City Hall abuses that power, the people here at home can do something about it. They can't do much if the Legislature abuses its powers, as it often does."

I would like anyway, Mr. President, to say that is not true in the city of Philadelphia, which has been operating under the same system that this bill, No. 800, provides for each municipality, since 1935—and the only reason a bill to do that in Philadelphia does not appear on the calendar today is because they are under Republican rule. They have been forbidden to tax anything except real estate, and not all real estate at that—not utility real estate and not many other kinds of real estate. I might add that an amendment added to House Bill 505 last Friday made sure there would be no taxes on public utility real estate in the city of Pittsburgh.

In this editorial it goes on to say:

"Right along with this bill to 'broaden' the municipal tax base, however, is another which does the opposite. Instead of giving the people of Pittsburgh and their municipal officials more discretion, this bill gives them less.

"It proposes to put a ceiling on the real estate tax. It would say to City Hall, 'You can tax real estate, but only so much.'

"The bill was introduced by Rep. Norman H. Laughner, who doesn't live in Pittsburgh.

"Now we think real estate is paying enough taxes. In some ways, it is paying more than its fair share. And we don't think the City should add anything to that tax. We don't think it would dare, as a matter of fact.

"But that's something for us to settle. It is not the business of the Legislature. It's a matter between the people of Pittsburgh and their own elected officials.

"The Laughner bill is an arrogant piece of legislation. It should be killed."

In conclusion, Mr. President, I want to say to my friends on the other side of the Senate that this is another cheap political bill which should never have appeared on this calendar on the last day of the session, and I ask support in helping kill this bill.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. DENT. I just want to make the comment, Mr. President, on the fact that the vote on this bill was strictly a party vote, which to my mind certainly bears out my contention that it is punitive legislation, aimed at the Democratic city administration.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, if the Governor, which I do not think he will, sees fit to sign this bill, I will say to you same men, if we are all back here in 1950, although I think a great number of you will not be back, I will be the one to introduce the same bill for Philadelphia and speed it through to passage because if it is right for Pittsburgh, it is right for Philadelphia, to freeze their real estate tax at the rate it is now.

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1114, as follows:

An Act to amend thereof section four hundred seventeen of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" further regulating the compensation of watchers

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Subsection (c) of section four hundred seventeen of the act approved the third day of June one thousand nine hundred thirty-seven (P. L. 1333) entitled "An Act concerning elections including general municipal special and primary elections the nomination of candidates primary and election expenses and election contests creating and defining membership of county boards of elections imposing duties upon the Secretary of the Commonwealth courts county boards of elections county commissioners imposing penalties for violation of the act and codifying revising and consolidating the laws relating thereto and repealing certain acts and parts of acts relating to elections" are hereby amended to read as follows

* * * * *

Section 417 Appointment of Watchers

(c) No candidate or committee of a political party or of a political body nor any other person or persons shall pay to any watcher [in any election district in a city] compensation in excess of ten ($10.00) dollars per diem [or to any watcher in any other election district compensation in excess of five ($5.00) dollars per diem]

And said bill having been read at length the third time, On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

Mr. BARR. I would think more of the sponsor of this bill, Mr. President, if he would put in the bill a provision to outlaw watcher's certificate. I do know that the cost of living has gone up but I also know it has not gone up that much, that we have to raise the pay of watchers from $5 to $10.

I do not think that we, as members of the Senate, should have to get into the Heyburn-McClure fight in Delaware County, because it seems to me that that is all this bill is, and I ask the members on this side to vote "no."

Mr. HOLLAND. Mr. President, I have introduced in every session of the Legislature at which I have been a member a bill providing for the elimination of watcher's certificates but of course it has always died in Committee and here we have a bill providing to raise watcher's certificates from $5 to $10.

I understand that this bill was introduced by Mr. Layer who is in the employ of Mr. Pew, preparing for a fight in Delaware County—the Pew forces there, led by Mr. Heyburn, through pull, assigned Mr. Layer.

If they can not do anything else they are going to buy the election, they are going to have so much money that they go around and use these watcher's certificates—as I understand, they are used in Delaware County not for watchers but are left in a house where two or three voters are and they leave so many watcher's certificates in the house and the people there are supposed to go down and cast their votes. As far as watching is concerned, they do not do any.

I do not think it is fair to drag into the Legislature a bill of this type. In its original form it is absolutely and completely out of reason. It was, however, amended in the House.

I do not think government should be given to the highest bidder, and that is what we are doing when we permit excessive expenditures at the polls. In other words, it is going to get to the point of who has the most money will win elections. If that is the case, why have elections. We should not permit the highest bidders to use our money to run government, and that is all this bill intends to do.

This is the third political bill on the calendar today. It always seems these political bills are held until the last minute and then shot through and I do not think that we, as members of the Senate and House of Pennsylvania, should be called into a fight in Delaware County between Pew and McClure and Heyburn. Let them settle their own fight in Delaware County and maybe we will get better government out of Delaware County than we have been getting.

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I just want to call attention to one little feature in this bill. There are eight thousand two hundred election districts in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania. With a minimum in a general election of two watchers for each party, and with the primary election, you can easily conceive that we could spend on election day in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania $30,000,000.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, it would seem that our colleague from Allegheny, Senator Barr, was trying very hard to mislead our colleagues when voicing on this bill.

Previously those residing in a city had the privilege of paying watchers at elections up to $10—it was not compulsory that anybody pay $10, or any amount of money at all.

Now, if the bill passes and becomes a law as it is currently drawn, those in any election district will have the privilege of paying a watcher up to $10. Contrary to the statement of the gentleman from Allegheny, Senator Barr, they will not necessarily pay $10, nor is there any increase in cities. The previous level set was $5 in any district outside a city, and if this bill is enacted, I repeat, Mr.

President, it will put a ceiling on uniformly throughout all election districts of the state at a maximum of $10.

Mr. DENT. I might suggest to the gentleman from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, if we are going to put the counties on the same basis as cities, in that case we should amend House Bill 417 and pay rural school teachers the same as you do in the cities because certainly school teachers are as important as election watchers.

I would suggest, Mr. President, if the majority will hold this bill over for just a few minutes, I will prepare an amendment which will outlaw payment to any watcher of any amount in an election and allow elections to follow for the first time in the history of this state the desires and wishes of the people.

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I think the Senator from Cumberland, Mr. Wade, pretty nearly hit the nail on the head. I am not concerned with this bill, Mr. President—I expect to vote "aye"; however, not for the reasons outlined by the lieutenant of the Lawrence organization in Pittsburgh, where they pay watchers $10 per person at the polls. There are sections in the state, outside of the large cities, where a watcher has just as much work to do as they do in the cities and I see no reason, Mr. President, why it should not be possible to pay a watcher in the country up to $10, if necessary, just the same as if it is necessary in a city.

As far as the Senator's offer to amend the bill so no watchers are paid, that is all right with me, Mr. President; so long as the country districts and the cities are on an equal basis, Mr. President, I do not care. I suppose that the gentleman on the other side are used to handling political campaigns and they must be somewhat familiar with election laws and they know, Mr. President, that there are all sorts of work that political workers do, or say they do, and get paid for, like transportation of electors—there is no limit to how many you can have in an election district in the democratic United States, you can have as many as you want. As I remember the law, in a general election you may only have three watchers to a district.

So I think what the fellows on the other side need to do is become a little more familiar with the election code.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, we listened but a few minutes ago to the distinguished gentleman from Westmoreland County, Senator Dent, when he suggested we have a short recess during which he would change this bill and eliminate the provision of paying any salary to watchers, and I merely want to remind the gentleman, in the closing days of this session, that we on the Republican side would get the bad end of that deal—it has long been recognized that it is not necessary for anybody to watch Republicans but, on the other hand, we must be very careful and watch our opponents.

Mr. DENT. I do not know much about it, Mr. President, but I remember one time, years ago, I heard Irvin Cobb make a radio address in which he said he would not be justified in taking the position that every Republican was a horse thief, but from his own knowledge he would testify that every horse thief was a Republican.

I might say to the gentleman that I am going to ask now that this bill go over in its order so that I may prepare amendments, in which I will be supported by the gentleman from Delaware, Mr. Heyburn.

MOTION THAT BILL GO OVER IN ORDER

Mr. DENT. Mr. President, I move that House Bill No. 1114, on third reading, go over in its order.

Mr. BARR. Mr. President, I second the motion.

On the question,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

Mr. HEYBURN. Mr. President, I have no objection to amending this bill so they get one dollar or nothing at all, it suits me fine. However, this being the last legislative day, I am wondering just how the gentleman would amend the bill and then pass it; it has to be printed for the use of the members.

Mr. BARR. I can amend it very simply, by strike-out amendments, just take the money out.

Mr. HEYBURN. O. K. with me.

Mr. WALKER. I do not like to have to pay these watchers but I understand from discussion with the sponsor of the bill these are the watchers that watch the watchers and that is why they have to pay them more money.

Mr. DiSILVESTRO. Mr. President, I intend to vote "aye" because I believe in the doctrine that money talks. You see, Mr. President, when you give $10 to a watcher you have atomic energy in action.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

(A voice vote having been taken the question was determined in the negative.)

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the bill on third reading?

BILL ON THIRD READING AND FINAL PASSAGE

Agreeably to order,

The Senate proceeded to the third reading and consideration of House Bill No. 1193, as follows:

An Act authorizing public utility corporations engaged in transmitting electricity or transporting steam water gas oil or gasoline by pipe to obtain rights of way across public property in Cities of the First Class upon the consent of such city

The General Assembly of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania hereby enacts as follows

Section 1 Any public utility company engaged in transmitting electricity or transporting natural or artificial gas steam water crude oil gasoline or petroleum products by pipe or conduit for the public for compensation shall have the privilege to take rights of way across any publicly owned property located within the corporate limits of any City of the First Class upon the consent of the City of the First Class to said right of way first had and obtained which consent the said cities are the said city by the majority vote of the members of its council is hereby empowered to give upon terms to be agreed upon by the said city and the said public utility corporations

And said bill having been read at length the third time, and agreed to,

On the question,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, this is a very important bill, respecting the city of Philadelphia. I have discussed many punitive bills on the floor of the Senate but I think this is the most dangerous bill ever presented to us for consideration. This bill deals with Fairmount Park, the second largest park in the country.

The bill before us, Mr. President, appears to be very simple or innocuous but a careful analysis, examination and investigation clearly indicates that it is pregnant with dangerous implications. Let us read this bill, House Bill 1193, introduced by Mr. Reilly April 1, 1947, the title of which reads "an act authorizing public utility corporations engaged in transmitting electricity, or transporting steam, water, gas, oil, or gasoline by pipe, to obtain right of way across public property in cities of the first class upon the consent of such cities." Section 1 of this bill reads: "Any public utility company engaged in transmitting electricity or transporting natural or artificial gas, steam, water, crude oil, gasoline or petroleum products by pipe or conduit for the public for compensation shall have the privilege to take right-of-way across any publicly owned property . . . by and with the consent of a majority of the members of council.

On the surface, Mr. President, to one who is not familiar with the set-up in Philadelphia, it seems as if we are about to enact legislation for which there is absolutely no need. The city of Philadelphia today, without any necessary new legislation, has the right to give right-of-way across its property to public utilities.

However, we have a park in Philadelphia known as Fairmount Park, the second largest park in the United States, and our city council desires to sabotage that park for the benefit of a few utilities which could very well use sections going through the park for the laying of pipes, transmission lines, distribution wires, substations and the like.

By virtue of an act of assembly dated 1863, and its supplements, Fairmount Park has for its custodian the Fairmount Park Commission, appointed by the judges. Its members are all outstanding men, who time and again have proven their worth and, what is equally important, is the fact that these men as appointed by the court are free from political influence. They have truly made our Fairmount Park a place of beauty and a public place for out-of-door recreation and pleasure, and that is the definition of a park, a tract of land set aside and beautified for recreation and pleasure and nothing else. But our city council, as it is constituted today, views the park with jealous eyes and certainly is very jealous of the powers of the Fairmount Park Commission. Until recently our city council refused to appropriate sufficient money to pay for the park guards to protect Fairmount Park. There is a reason for that and I will explain it as I go on.

Mr. President, this bill definitely represents a conspiracy, and when I say conspiracy I mean exactly what I say, between city council and the utilities, to sabotage the park for private gain, and I mean private gain. It further reveals a disposition on the part of council to strip the Park Commission of its duty to properly manage the park, and put it in cheap political hands.

This bill was given to the sponsor by one of our councilmen, representing the council in legislative matters. So it is a foregone conclusion, if you read the bill, which requires the consent of city council, that council will not do anything but the bidding of the utilities. And that is contained in the bill. I did not put it in there. The Republican City Committee of Philadelphia, backed by its councilmen, put it in there.

The sponsor—I will not mention his name because I think he is a swell person and a fine person, definitely told me he knew nothing about the bill at the time of its introduction, but later was told by a colleague in the House it was full of dynamite. Nevertheless, he could not very well withdraw, excepting he did not press action until pressure became so great that, fearful of political reprisals, he forced action. I find no fault with the sponsor of the bill—he is a fine person.

However, I can not condemn too strongly the conspirators who imposed on the good nature of this individual. May I ask why this all-important bill was not presented to a member of the House versed in these matters? The fact of the matter is they were very much afraid of it, they realized it was a Trojan Horse, bound to do damage to the citizenry of Philadelphia, particularly to those who use the park for purposes of recreation and pleasure.

We who are wealthy and can afford the luxury—but I am interested in our people by and large, and ninety per cent of them use Fairmount Park for a place of pleasure and recreation and, I repeat, that is the purpose of the park and certainly not for the benefit of the utilities.

I now ask, and I repeat it with a great deal of emphasis, what deal is in the offing? How many utilities are now seeking rights-of-way across the park? Who are these utilities that seek these rights? Can they not use city property other than the park? Have these utilities been refused rights-of-way across the park by the Park Commission, and why? Is this bill an attempt to by-pass the Park Commission itself? In fact, I will say it is an attempt to do indirectly what they do not have the moral courage to do directly, by transferring powers from the Park Commission to city council.

Gentlemen, we are entitled to this information. I have many questions to present to my friends from Philadelphia; I am very much afraid they can not answer them and I do not care to embarrass them, but if they want the floor to answer these questions I will ask the questions.

The entire matter to me reeks with filth and leaves a stench in my nostrils. May I inform you that the Park Commission has given authority to utilities—the Park Commission now in charge, now in direct control—has given authority to utilities to use rights-of-way in the park, but they have always been careful, in so doing, that it would not destroy the beauty of the park or affect its recreational value. This is obviously an attempt to obtain rights with little or no cost at the expense of the public.

Mr. President, there is one very important proposition which I want to bring to the attention of the members of the Senate with respect to House Bill 1193—the constitutionality of this bill. I have talked with the attorney for the Joint State Government Committee and this is his answer—the most screwy bill that was ever presented to the Legislature—and I think my friend from Delaware knows who the attorney for the Joint State Government Committee is. I have also talked with other attorneys connected with our state government and they say definitely it is unconstitutional. In attempting to by-pass the duties or the rights of the Park Commission they make no reference whatsoever to the Park Commission or the park in the bill, a very carefully worded bill but a very foolish bill and, further and more important, in reference to the repeal of the Act of 1863 and its supplement, creating a Park Commission and defining its powers—how in the world can we pass legislation like this, taking away rights from the Park Commission and putting them in the hands of council, who seek to sabotage our park for their own private gain? What is going on here, my friends? It is high time we cut this thing short. The utilities have their rights but so do our people. The utilities can use the city streets, they can use homes, they can condemn, but to go in our park and deliberately take property, with the approval of city council and, as I said before, it is a foregone conclusion city council will give them anything they want for a dollar a year. Why? Let us forget for the moment its validity or constitutionality and let us inquire into the motive behind it. If the sponsors of the bill were honest about the whole matter would they not have referred to the park in this bill? Read this bill—Senator Farrell, Senator Kephart, Senator Lord, Senator Frazier, all from Philadelphia, read it and show me one mention, one iota, one word, referring to the park or Park Commission. This is one of those joker bills, seeking to destroy the park for the benefit of certain utilities. Would they not have inserted a provision in it repealing all acts inconsistent therewith? No, they were afraid it would come to light that this is being done for the benefit of the utilities. Those two features, Mr. President, were deliberately omitted to avoid suspicion. They realized that any attempt to interfere with the management of the park would excite public indignation and their plans would fail. So hence a carefully but foolishly worded bill, prepared in the handwriting of the utilities. Attempts have been made previously by city council to encroach upon the rights of the Park Commission, but the courts have invariably upheld the commission.

This bill definitely represents a conspiracy between city council and the utilities to sabotage the park. It further reveals a disposition on the part of council to strip the park commission of its authority to properly manage the park.

My friends, I can appreciate whom you are ready to serve. I can appreciate that fact that I am taking this stand on the side of the people, in the interest of the people—I am interested in the utilities, when they have rights and they deserve those rights, but when their rights interfere with the rights of the people to use Fairmount Park, that is a dangerous situation and so I say to you be careful in enacting this legislation. I have only one vote—and there may be fifteen others with me on this side—and it means more to me to protect the interests of the people of the city of Philadelphia. The Park Commission has not denied the rights to use rights, so long as it is not in a section where it would interfere with those portions that are used by the public, where it would interfere with recreation or pleasure or the beauty of the park, and that is the purpose of any park.

These men are not politically inclined and they are doing a good job, and if the Republican Party thought they were not doing a good job we would have a bill in the House or Senate to strip the Park Commission of its authority and put it in the hands of city council, but we know better in the city of Philadelphia. We know what would happen if such a thing would happen. We would not have a park very long. You would not have one utility, you would have five, six, ten, twelve, electric, gas, power, whatnot using the park. And when you give park rights away it means from the center of the earth to heaven, nothing more, nothing less, and nobody dare encroach upon those rights-of-way as used by the utilities. So they want you, and you, and you, and I in Philadelphia, and my neighbors in adjoining counties, to vote for this bill. For what purpose? Let us not let that happen. I know what is behind this and so do you.

Let me say to you in conclusion, my friends, that if Fairmount Park is to remain truly a park, keep it out of the hands of city council and the utilities. The utilities are operating now but they are not interfering, as I said with the pleasure and recreation of the people. Let us not sell our people short. I say with all the emphasis at my command there is something rotten in Denmark. I say over and over again this bill smells to high heaven. Let us vote this unconstitutional bill down.

Mr. STIEFEL. I desire to make an appeal to the rural members of the Senate. It seems that throughout the entire session we hear a lot about Pittsburgh and Philadelphia. It is a tale of two cities, and the out-land between them, and there is an attitude from time to time assumed by the rural Senators of a plague on both of your houses. But when it comes to the Fairmount Park Commission, fully realizing the vote will be 34 to 16, I still feel duty-bound to make an appeal for support against this measure, because the teeming thousands in my district have only one outlet and that is Fairmount Park. Most of the members of the Senate who hail from rural sections are blessed with the scenic beauty of their districts; we in Philadelphia have lost almost everything but we have Fairmount Park—and then we have the stench of the Schuylkill River—but to deprive us of Fairmount Park means depriving thousands of our city from their Sunday recreation.

This bill, if passed, will damn Fairmount Park. This is the closing day of the session and I respectfully submit that until the day will come when up-state Senators will make more frequent visits to Philadelphia and learn conditions in Philadelphia and accept them, they will not be able to perceive the picture which we from time to time present to them.

I plead with you gentlemen to save Fairmount Park and defeat this measure.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, the distinguished Senator from Philadelphia is always a most vociferous and ardent advocate but when he is talking about our beautiful park, there are several things I must say to him. The park is not pregnant—prostitutes do not go there—if he had left prostitution of the park out, if he had left out those terms, I would not have said a word, but in so far as those thoughts are concerned he is entirely erroneous.

The Fairmount Park Commission is composed of very distinguished and very able citizens, such as Joseph Carson, Frank H. Caven, W. Kirkland Dwyer, Joseph P. Gaffney, former city solicitor of Philadelphia, John B. Kelly, former leader on the other side, Dr. John F. McCloskey, John H. Packard, Raymond Rosen, Charles I. Thompson, Jay Cooke, our distinguished citizen.

It is not the desire of the citizens of Philadelphia to take away control of Fairmount Park from this commission. We do not propose to prostitute the park. Tears were running down my cheeks when the Senator from Philadelphia, Mr. Stiefel, pictured those thirty-nine hundred beautiful acres as entirely destroyed for the citizens of Philadelphia because we want this little privilege to be given.

The reason we did not speak of Fairmount Park in the bill is because Fairmount Park contains 3,926 acres and the city of Philadelphia has such confidence in the Fairmount Park Commission that they have put under their control almost all park areas in Philadelphia—there are 7,794 acres under their control now, almost twice the area of Fairmount Park.

We are not going to put in gas stations and all the utilities that Mr. Jaspán has in his mind, through Fairmount Park. The commissioners of Fairmount Park have given the privilege to utilities to go in there, and on that they want guidance from city council.

It is either carry a tremendously powerful industry through and under Fairmount Park, bring an entire industry into Philadelphia and make employment and increase taxable properties in Philadelphia, or make them go two or three miles around the park underground. It seems to me that it is much better that we go under an unused part of Fairmount Park than tear up four or five miles of city streets.

The Senator from Philadelphia says there is no need for this legislation. This legislation is to give the city of Philadelphia the power to do this, with proper restrictions. I can see no conspiracy for private gain. Ever since I have been up here in this Senate this last time I have heard nothing at all but deal, deal, deal—nobody has dealt with me—maybe Senator Jaspán gets some of those deals, I do not know.

The beauty of the park will not be destroyed. This is a very simple bill, to allow our city council to control this situation. Senator Jaspán can be well justified in realizing city council would not do anything which would jeopardize themselves by harming Fairmount Park, and therefore I ask my colleagues to vote in favor of this legislation.

Mr. JASPÁN. Mr. President, I desire to interrogate the gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Frazier.

The PRESIDENT. Will the gentleman from Philadelphia permit himself to be interrogated?

Mr. FRAZIER. I will, Mr. President.

Mr. JASPAN. Did I understand the gentleman from Philadelphia to say the Fairmount Park Commission was composed of outstanding men?

Mr. FRAZIER. No question about that; some of the finest citizens of Philadelphia?

Mr. JASPAN. Haven't they given rights to utilities to use rights-of-way across the park in the past?

Mr. FRAZIER. If they have, why does the gentleman object to them doing so again.

Mr. JASPAN. Will the gentleman please answer the question? Never mind, Mr. President, I will not question the gentleman any further. His answer is very silly. They have given rights-of-way to the utilities.

Mr. FRAZIER. I thought that was what the gentleman objected to.

Mr. JASPAN. Mr. President, this bill would give the right to the city council to cooperate with the utilities and give rights-of-way for a dollar a year. The gentleman from Philadelphia, Senator Frazier, says they are outstanding men and yet they have given rights-of-way in the past. There is no reason for having this silly bill, especially in view of the fact that it does not refer to the Park or Park Commission, in the least and further, it does not repeal the act of 1853 or its supplements, which created the Park Commission and defined its powers. It is exactly as my friend said—he did not say it but I take from what he said there is no reason for any change in the law, and I therefore ask everybody here to vote “no.”

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President, I just want to say one word in conclusion—and I hope it is in conclusion—if these precious city fathers in Philadelphia, who the gentleman says have these ulterior motives in their minds, did not want to continue in existence the Fairmount Park Commission, they could very easily have the Commission abolished, but it has been in existence since 1853 and, as far as the city fathers are concerned, they desire it to continue to exist because it is doing a good job.

Mr. STIEFEL. Mr. President, I very seldom speak twice on a bill, and my colleague, Senator Kephart, has just admonished me to be very brief, but I only want to say to my colleagues, when they get home from this cloistered atmosphere and examine the legislation passed in this Senate and in the General Assembly, and compose the story of Philadelphia which has been written during the days of this session, the most rapacious chapter of that story is bill 1193.

And the question recurring,

Shall the bill pass finally?

Mr. President, I am going to cast my vote for adoption of this report but I think the members of the House ought to be censured for stealing one of our Senators; on this report I see the name James S. Berger as a signator, as a member of the House, and I understand he is a member of the Senate.

Mr. WALKER. Mr. President, that is under lend-lease.

The PRESIDENT. What is the Senator's question?

Mr. WOODRING. I am going to vote for the bill, Mr. President, but I think we ought to have Mr. Berger returned to the Senate.

And the question recurring,

Will the Senate agree to the motion?

STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF JOINT STATE GOVERNMENT COMMISSION

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, on behalf of the Joint State Government Commission, I desire to make a short report.

The PRESIDENT. The gentleman from Erie will proceed.

Mr. BLASS. Mr. President, I want to say to you that today it was most discouraging to hear the report from the House that the penal code, known as Act No. 306, failed of passage in the House and was laid on the table. I have here a short statement on behalf of the bill by the Joint State Government Commission, which is self-explanatory.

The report of the Joint State Government Commission on the Revision of the Penal Code was embodied in Senate Bill No. 306.

The numerous amendments which have been added to the original recommendations appear to have raised substantial doubts as to the wisdom of passing the bill at this session in its present form.

The study of the Commission represented a monumental undertaking. The services rendered by the members of the Commission's committee and the advisory committee were outstanding and the fruits of their labor ought not to be lost to the Commonwealth. Accordingly, it is proposed to preserve the results of this committee's work, to examine thoroughly all of the questions which have been raised at this session of the General Assembly, and to report to the next regular session, findings and recommendations as to such changes, revisions, and improvements as may be desirable.

It is appropriate to state at this time what the Commission states in its Summary Report to the General Assembly, of March 21, 1947; namely, that it owes much to the committee and the advisory committee, but that the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania owes much more to these same men for their labors in preparing the proposed act; and it is also fitting to state that their labor has not been in vain but that its results will be fully utilized.

In supplement to that report may I say this, that I heartily concur in the statement of the Joint State Government Commission. If the people in the House had known of the efforts and the labor that have been put into revision of this penal code by the twenty-one men, comprising the legislative and the advisory committee, there would not be any question but that this penal code would pass upon its merits, and I say to you that we have just begun with the preparation of the new procedure code and this code, together with the procedure code, will be ready for introduction at the next session of the General Assembly in 1949.

STATEMENT ON BEHALF OF MINORITY PARTY

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President on behalf of my Democratic colleagues I have been instructed by our floor leader, Mr. Dent, to offer as a matter of record our position with regard to certain bills that have passed and certain bills that have failed to pass.

Rather than take up time of the Senate and read this message I ask permission to have this message spread upon the Legislative Journal.

The PRESIDING OFFICER. Hearing no objection the report will be incorporated in the Legislative Journal.

PARTIAL REPORT BY THE DEMOCRATIC LEADER ON THE 1947 SESSION OF THE LEGISLATURE

The Democratic Minority feels that at least a partial survey should be made of this legislative session's accomplishments or lack of accomplishments.

The Democratic party re-affirms its position on the question of anti-labor legislation, it still believes that the proper approach to peaceful labor relations is through understanding and education. No amount of legislation aimed at one side or the other in a labor dispute can take the place of honesty and negotiations and a mutual trust and understanding of each other's problems.

We oppose and will continue to oppose any legislation that deprives any citizen of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania of any of their rights or any curtailment of their personal freedom.

I will not take the time to give the specific instances in the bills passed by this legislature that we deem to be inadequate and inconsistent with a thorough understanding of our Democratic way of life. I will give to the public a detailed report on this legislation later.

The Republican majority stands indicted by the record of its failure to enact into law a solemn promise made to the people of Pennsylvania to pass legislation on F.E.P.C. There can be no valid excuse for this lack of fulfillment when upon every other legislative action the insistence by the Governor of the Commonwealth has been sufficient to insure the passage of any so-called administrative bill. A point of proof is the passage of House Bill No. 800, with its unwieldy broadening of the tax base opposed by many members of the Republican majority, and yet jammed through in the final moments by the administrative insistence.

The Republican majority in the Senate must assume responsibility for failure to pass the codification law for the State Liquor Control Board.

One keeps in mind that any objectionable features of this act could have been removed by the same strength of the majority that killed the entire bill; then the Republican majority must assume its responsibility.

The Republican majority must assume full responsibility for the defeat of a bill that would have outlawed all restrictions upon the manufacture and sale of oleomargarine, other than the pure food laws of the Commonwealth.

The Democratic minority feels that this was a blow to the economy of the families of working men and women of this Commonwealth, because any restriction placed upon this pure wholesome food product definitely increases the cost of living of the average Pennsylvania family.

The failure of the Republican majority to pass a state rent control bill is another indictment of this Republican majority and its failure to pass legislation designated to benefit the average Pennsylvania family.

In the matter of state taxes, we re-affirm our position that the tax program enacted by this legislative session is not in line with the needs of the Commonwealth nor is it based upon the ability to pay.

The vast majority of our citizens will find that the Duff tax program is in reality an ill-disguised sales tax and places the burden of taxation squarely upon the shoulders of the consumer public of this Commonwealth.

The Democratic minority feels that the failure of the Republican majority to take into consideration a long range program for payment for permanent construction for mental hospitals is the only reason that adequate provisions have not been made for the immediate problem of school teachers' salaries.

In order that there be no misunderstanding about House Bill No. 417, the so-called, School Teacher Salary Bill, I wish to make the following minority report to the people of Pennsylvania:

House Bill No. 417 does not mandate an immediate salary increase to more than a fraction out of approximately 58,000 school teachers in this Commonwealth. The mandated minimum of $1,950 in Pennsylvania is below the salary now being paid to the greater number of teachers in this Commonwealth. By setting up these standards, House Bill No. 417 denies to the citizens of first class school districts their just and equitable share of the revenue set aside for school purposes. We feel that this legislature has failed miserably in its opportunity at this time to present to the people of Pennsylvania a substantial school program based on equality of educational opportunities and an equality in minimum salary standards in every district in the Commonwealth. We feel that some provision should have been made as an immediate aid to the first class districts and other low subsidy districts to raise the minimum subsidy to at least $900 per teaching unit.

As a gesture of sincerity the least that could have been done for all of the teachers in the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania would have been an immediate service increment mandated by the Commonwealth and paid for out of state revenues. In a practical demonstration, where we have mandated one service increment to those earning less than $1,950 we have failed to make provisions to pay for this subsidy in the low subsidy districts.

Further, we have put back into the hands of the School Board the jurisdiction over immediate increases to those teachers who, because of long years of service and scholastic attainments, are now receiving $1,950 or more. This is definitely opposite to the position taken by this legislature in the subsidy increases in general, where we have mandated salary increases of from ten to twenty percent to the various officials of this government, state and local. We should have done no less than this for the school teachers of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania.

That the entire subsidy of state education is inadequate under the Act as the state responsibility for education demands that the Commonwealth bear a larger share of its financial burden than is provided herein:

That the subsidy herein does not take into consideration the broadened tax base provided in this session of the Legislature.

It is the considered opinion of the minority that if the basis for the reimbursement ratio for subsidy purposes is the revenue possibilities behind each teacher unit, then by changing this revenue possibility we must redefine the entire school finance program. We no longer can reimburse on the basis of inability to raise necessary school revenues if a community refuses to place new taxes upon its constituents.

If House Bill No. 800 is passed, then every school district can assess sufficient new taxes to carry its share of the school burden on an equalized subsidy basis.

We believe that the entire matter of school financing, teachers salaries and all other problems relative to local taxation have not been given the serious consideration necessary before the passage of an overall tax bill that, except in few instances, gives local districts unbridled and unhampered powers to tax.

If the Legislature wishes more taxes for local communities, it should be the responsibility of the Legislature to specify the type, nature and amount of taxes to be imposed for each, keeping in mind the power to tax is the power to destroy.

The Democratic minority will, at a later date, give to the people of Pennsylvania a detailed report and summary of the legislative action or lack of legislative action relative to housing agriculture and veterans.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, realizing that House Bill 800 will be here very shortly, with the hope that we can save time later on in the evening, I would like to go on record as to how I personally feel about this bill.

I realize that the Governor is trying to arrange for ways and means to increase salaries of school teachers, and possibly that may be one way of arriving at his aim, but I also realize that if ever we placed upon our statutes as vicious and dangerous a piece of legislation that you will find in House Bill 800. I say to you, gentlemen, that bill will come back to haunt us, it shall haunt each and every one of us individually.

The bill in itself is not punitive because it permits local municipalities to set up their own taxation, but I already have knowledge of certain school districts which are making plans, back in my own county, to tax our coal industry. We tried very sincerely to amend that bill, to take out natural and mineral resources.

I realize, and I believe we all realize, that the so-called honeymoon is over. There are coal operators in our county who will have keen competition in the very near future and additional hardships will be placed upon this industry, not only the coal operator, but eventually it will put the coal miner back on the relief rolls. I do not know how we could control it unless we adopt that amendment. You might say, well, why exempt the coal operators? Because they are a basic industry. Once our coal mines are shut down in Pennsylvania we shall go back to the days of the 1930 relief rolls. Who pays the relief rolls? You and I.

So I am afraid and I am very fearful that within the next twelve months we will be compelled to come back into a special session to repeal that very same act that now we are trying to place upon our statutes.

You will find men who are not qualified, but all the same we are giving them taxing powers to tax any item—they may go as far as taxing pew rent in our churches, they might go as far as taxing wages, salaries, a sales tax, an amusement tax—any type of tax they might think of that is not now imposed by the Commonwealth.

Mr. President, I will read into the record a letter that came to me yesterday from one of the largest manufacturers in this Commonwealth, from the president of the Westmont Borough Council, located in my county, in the city of Johnstown, the Davis Brake Beam Company, having branches in Boston, Chicago, Cleveland, Richmond, St. Louis and San Francisco. The president of this company is George W. Fox, who also happens to be burgess of one of our wealthiest boroughs, known as Westmont, adjacent to Johnstown. Mr. Fox, sends me a copy of a letter that he wrote to Mr. T. H. Chrostwaite, a gentleman who sincerely is working on behalf of the boroughs of Pennsylvania, and which is as follows:

"Acknowledgment is made of your telegrams urging support of HB-800. Sorry, but am obligated to inform you that the members of Westmont Borough Council can not support this bill as written. It is felt that the objective to relieve real estate from increased taxes at this time is of the greatest importance, but to accomplish this by placing almost unlimited power to assess and collect taxes upon practically everything in the hands of local officials constitutes a most dangerous piece of legislation and should therefore be opposed.

If this Bill is passed in its present form, the mad scramble by the taxing authorities of hundreds of municipalities in our state for additional revenue is too confusing to contemplate."

Then at the bottom of the letter there is a note just to me: "The authority and power delegated by this bill could prove to be a very dangerous weapon in the hands of a handful of officials in each community. Your business, or mine, if we were not in personal favor, could be taxed out of existence and our possessions confiscated. Other sources of revenue are unquestionably needed, but the power to tax not be freely delegated to each and every Tom, Dick and Harry just because he may be a member of a city or borough council"

That, Mr. President, speaks for itself. You are giving taxing powers to men who are serving in public office by default, men who are not qualified to serve in those public offices and we, the members of the General Assembly, no longer would come back into session if we continue to delegate powers back to the rural municipalities.

Mr. President, under this bill, if a local political subdivision now has a tax assessment of, say, a million dollars, they are permitted to equal that taxation, as a special tax they may assess and tax the same individuals up to $1,000,000, doubling the tax they are paying now.

It is a most dangerous piece of legislation. We shall regret the day we vote upon it. I predict again that we will be compelled to come back into a special session to wipe off the statutes this vicious piece of legislation.

RECESS

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President, I move that the Senate do now take a recess for ten minutes.

Mr. GELTZ. Mr. President, I second the motion.

The motion was agreed to.

AFTER RECESS

The PRESIDENT (Lieutenant-Governor Daniel B. Strickler) in the Chair.

The PRESIDENT. The time of recess having elapsed the Senate will be in order.

An Act defining and regulating certain installment sales of motor vehicles prescribing the conditions under which such sales may be made and regulating the financing thereof regulating and licensing persons engaged in the business of making or financing such sales prescribing the form contents and effect of instruments used in connection with such sales and the financing thereof prescribing certain rights and obligations of buyers sellers persons financing such sales and other limiting incidental charges in connection with such instruments and fixing maximum interest rates for delinquencies extensions and loans regulating insurance in connection with such sales regulating repossessions redemptions resales and deficiency judgments and the rights of parties with respect thereto authorizing extensions loans and forbearances related to such sales authorizing investigations and examinations of persons engaged in the business of making or financing such sales prescribing penalties and repealing certain acts

Section 1 Short Title This act shall be known and may be cited as the "Motor Vehicle Sales Finance Act"

Section 2 Findings and Declarations of Policy It is hereby determined and declared as a matter of legislative finding

(a) That an exhaustive study by the Joint State Government Commission discloses nefarious unscrupulous and improper practices in the financing of the sale of motor vehicles in this Commonwealth which are unjustly detrimental to the consumer and inimical to the public welfare. Such practices prevail not only among some sellers but also among some sales finance companies and some banks which acquire contracts arising out of installment sales of motor vehicles and which frequently influence the credit policies of sellers.

(b) That the agreement for the installment sale of motor vehicles in this Commonwealth has been generally cast in the form of the so-called "Pennsylvania Bailment Lease" contract in which the seller is technically the lessor and the buyer is technically the lessee. By the use of this fictional instrument in the installment sale of motor vehicles the extension of credit to the purchaser has been so inextricably entwined with the alleged bailment of the motor vehicle as to deprive the consumer of the benefits of existing laws.

(c) That consumers because of these legal technicalities and because of their unequal bargaining position are at the mercy of unscrupulous persons and are being intolerably exploited in the installment purchase of motor vehicles. Such exploitation is evident in the unfair provisions of the installment sale contract exorbitant charges for credit extortionate default extension collection repossession and other charges unconscionable practices respecting execution of contracts refinancing of contracts prepayment refunds insurance repossession and redemption.

(d) That practices enumerated and others equally pernicious have existed to such an extent that regulation of the installment selling of motor vehicles is necessary to the adequate protection of the public interest. Adequate regulation of installment selling must include control of the functions of selling and financing of motor vehicles whether exercised by the same or by different persons.

Therefore it is hereby declared to be the policy of the Commonwealth of Pennsylvania to promote the welfare of its inhabitants and to protect its citizens from abuses presently existing in the installment sale of motor vehicles and to that end exercise the police power of the Commonwealth to bring under the supervision of the Commonwealth all persons engaged in the business of extending consumer credit in conjunction with the installment sale of motor vehicles to establish a system of regulation for the purpose of insuring honest and efficient consumer credit service for installment purchasers of motor vehicles and to provide the administrative machinery necessary for effective enforcement.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. WADE asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. WADE. Mr. President, my distinguished colleague from Erie—perhaps I should amend that by saying my distinguished colleague who hails from the mud-flats of Erie county—has suggested that we should attempt in some feeble way to pay tribute to these grand lady Senators who have been so faithful to us during this session.

As I begin these remarks, Mr. President, I think of the Englishman who, when invited to a banquet, listened to a distinguished gentleman who raised his glass and gave the toast "to the ladies; the happiest moments of my life were spent in the arm of another man's wife, and this woman was my mother." A few weeks after that, when the Englishman was asked to give a toast, he rose and said, "to the ladies; the happiest moments of my life were spent with another man's wife—by jove, I forget that Man's name."

However, Mr. President, if that story may not be in order, and I am sure it is not in order, I may make some amends by telling of the fine lady from Cumberland county who, when she lost her husband, went down immediately to a memorial dealer and had a beautiful stone selected for him and on which she had inscribed "rest in peace." A few weeks after that, after they had opened the lock box and found his will and discovered he had left his money to some one else, she hurried back and had inscribed on the stone "—till we meet again."

Mr. President, I do not want to get too far off base, after this very delightful session which has lasted such a short period of time, and I am prompted in saying that, and it is with proper respect and proper recognition, that I rise to pay tribute to these fine ladies who have come here so faithfully.

We move slowly in Pennsylvania and the legislative mills grind very fine. When I first was a member of the House of Representatives I was a little bit impatient with the slowness with which we, the members of the Legislature enacted or changed our laws in Pennsylvania, but over a period of time I have come to think that is a good thing—here are laws that we have existed under or lived under for many years, and at times in this great Keystone State—Pennsylvania has always been the Keystone of Democracy in America—to change these rules and laws too quickly would be out of place and would indicate that we do not have a proper respect and belief in these things that make Pennsylvania great and strong.

With all the sincerity that I possess I want, on behalf of my colleagues, to say a word with respect to these ladies who have so constantly kept our faith in America and in Pennsylvania, and so consistently raised our hope in the future of Pennsylvania and our citizens and always kept in our hearts love and trust in this fine and great Keystone State, the Keystone, the representative of American democracy.

Thank you very much.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. CARR asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. CARR. Mr. President, I want to add my tribute to the ladies in a little bit of verse of my own composition, which has been in existence for a great many years.

A number of years ago the Superintendent of Schools in our city of Butler came before the Rotary Club and talked on evolution, to the effect that everything that had happened from the time of beginning until that time had been the result of nothing else but evolution.

I happened at that time to be editing a weekly publication and I inserted this little bit of verse in that publication, entitled "Monkey Shines".

MONKEY SHINES

Five hundred thousands years ago,
Or maybe it was one day more;
A monkey sitting in a tree
At his good wife got sore.
He swore he didn't like his state,
He didn't like his tail,
He didn't like his hairy hide,
He'd change them without fail.
And so he started out to be
A man like you and I;
He knew that he could be a man
If only he would try.
And so he evolved off
The tail he used to wear
And started in to evolve
His body bald and bare,

Until his head's like heaven
For there is no parting there.
He evolved till he got
Himself a thinking brain,
Then started in to evolve
Himself right back again,
Or rather, that's what woman did,
He'd treated her so slim
It took her just two shakes to make
A monkey out of him.
She handed him the apple
And he didn't hesitate,
He didn't know the tempter
So he bit right in and ate.
And now most any woman,
Since that sad eventful day,
Can make a monkey out of man
In every kind of way.
L'Envoi:
At least that's how I take it
When I hear professors rave;
I'm just about half monkey
And can't make myself behave.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. HALUSKA asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. HALUSKA. Mr. President, while we are waiting for the final bill to come over from the House, I would like to take this opportunity to say a very few words with regard to our feelings over here as we come down to the end of this session.

I might say, Mr. President, that this has been a very fine session. I have noticed less bitterness in this session than I have in other sessions; there has been a feeling of friendship.

We hope that most of us will come back again two years hence. As I look at the Senators here assembled I can only find nine men who are now sitting in this body who were here when I first came to the Senate. Some did not choose to run, a number of them have gone to the great beyond, and it makes me feel quite sad to say goodbye to you men because I know full well probably some of us will never meet again. So I do want to say that we on this side of the aisle have really enjoyed your companionship.

I want to say the help has been exceptionally kind. Democrats were treated as well as the Republicans; all the help in the Senate has been very courteous and, speaking personally, for myself, I want to say that throughout the interim the help about this chamber has been very courteous.

I speak especially of the Senate Librarian, who has served all of us in a non-partisan way. Throughout the years Senator Bartlett has been our librarian I must say that he certainly has been a good public servant; I have never yet written to him without getting a reply to my request. He certainly is the type public servant we all wish to see in office. Others have done equally as well but I am in contact with him most.

You, Mr. President, have been very kind to our side of the Senate—I know those were your intentions—you have always made sure we were heard, we were never rapped down and in this session there were no gag rules imposed.

The gentleman from Lehigh, Mr. Tallman, has oftentimes felt a little angry possibly but he has been very courteous and gave all of us our day in court. That is why we have a democracy. So, although we have been in the minority, we have no complaints.

A great many of us, when the session opened, were somewhat alarmed about the Republican State Chairman, our President pro tempore, who, at that time was in the hospital, and I am sure that all of us watched the papers closely, hoping for his quick recovery. On behalf of our members I thank the floor leader on the other side of the aisle and all the members for the courtesy extended throughout this hectic session.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. FRAZIER asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. FRAZIER. Mr. President and members of the Senate, I feel constrained to say a few words to you in these dying days of this Session.

I had been retired from this Senate for twelve years, having been defeated in the fall of 1934 by 1,328 votes, by a Democrat who had been here for twelve years. I had served eight.

On the fourteenth of January, 1946, I was resting very happily and very comfortably in my private office, with no thought of coming back into political life again. My county leader, my personal friend, with great powers of persuasion, on the fifteenth of January tried to persuade me to run again. I tried to say no. I said I was happy, I could now get away in the winter and I did not want to get back in this racket I had been in for eight years, where every high pressured salesman in America would be pulling at my lapel, but I was persuaded, and after a strenuous campaign I was re-elected to the Senate.

And once, after I had accepted his invitation to run, I was very happy, and I say now to you men in this Senate that I have never had the pleasure before of serving with such a fine type of self-sacrificing men, who have given of their time and their energy—I have been dumbfounded at the time they spend in caucus in discussing bills and in consideration of matters before them, and I can not realize how the leaders of this body are able to devote the time they do, day and night—and I speak from the floor leader right straight down the line—of all of these men who have been in conferences.

And I want to say to you it has been the most pleasant winter of my life—I did not get to Florida and I worked like a slave and I got others to run my office at home while I have been up here watching these fellows work—but I feel it would be very remiss on my part if I did not say publicly what I have said many times privately, that I believe the Senate of Pennsylvania, as now constituted, has the finest body of honest, industrious, real thinking men with only one object in life, and that goes for both sides—we may think along different lines but the only ambition I have seen of the Republicans and the Democrats in this Senate has been to put through such legislation as they think would be for the best interests of Pennsylvania. And I find that it does not matter who sponsors a bill, if it is a good bill and for the benefit of all, it does not matter whether it is Republican or Democratic, it gets the same consideration, and I think that is the finest evidence of—I was going to say Democracy but I will say of the American way of life.

PERMISSION TO ADDRESS SENATE

Mr. TALLMAN asked and obtained unanimous consent to address the Senate.

Mr. TALLMAN. Mr. President while we are paying tribute to the ladies, the people on the floor and off the floor, I feel I would be a little bit remiss if I did not add just a word.

I want to pay my very high compliment, and I am certain the high compliments of the men who sit on this side of the Chamber, to the distinguished Lieutenant Governor and say to him that we have nothing but the highest praise for him and warm feeling for the manner in which he has conducted his duties in the Senate and for having built a very fine fellowship and camaraderie with him during this session.

I have paid my respects to my colleagues on this side of the chamber prior to this time, but I want to say again that I have enjoyed the work that I have been able to do with them during the entirety of this session and to thank them for having worked with me so well and so hard during the entire session.

I also want to pay my respects and my compliments to the gentlemen on the other side of this Chamber. While during this session we have had many disagreements, in varying degrees of bitterness, through it all we have only reflected differences in political thinking. The reasons for the differences have not been the same, the ideas have not been the same, but in our different ways of thinking the gentlemen on the other side, for their party, and we on this side for our party, have endeavored to do the best that we could and so produce the best kind of legislation that it was possible to produce. Such differences of opinion will certainly, I hope, always remain in this Chambers because they reflect the fundamental rightness of this form of government under which we live.

And then, too, I would like to compliment the employees of the Senate, and particularly the officials of the Senate at the desk, and the people who have helped us so much in and about the actual work of this Senate, on the front desk as well as those folks who have served us so well in the cloak rooms and in all the other functions of this Senate.

I know too, for me, it has been a very happy privilege, as I know it has been for every man in this chamber, to renew acquaintances with men who have been here before, to make the acquaintance of those men who have joined us in this session for the first time, and it is my earnest hope we will all have the opportunity to be together again.

REMARKS BY THE PRESIDENT

The PRESIDENT. I would like to say to the members of the Senate, before we take final action to adjourn sine die, that I appreciate all the kindness and consideration you have shown me, not only while I was in the chair but also while associating with you in caucus and at our various other gatherings.

I also want to thank the employes and the officials of the Senate for their kind treatment and consideration. Coming in here new in January, I realized that most of you had more experience in this chamber than I had, but I do feel now, when we are about the close, I am one of you, and, knowing I have another session to serve on my term, I know I will see a great many of you back again and I trust our friendship will continue as it has in this session.
